FRENCH IN ASSAULT AT VERDUN GAIN MILE

One of Most Successful Counter-Attacks Since Drive of Germans Ends in Capture of First Line Trenches and Men

MAIN TEUTON SUPPORT AT SOMME POCKETED

General Foch Draws Closer to Chaulnes-Peronne Railway, While British Overcome All Opposition to Their Advance

PARIS, Sept. 7.—In one of their most successful counter-attacks since the German drive on Verdun, the French last night captured the entire 1500 yards of German first-line positions, extending from Vaux Chapitre to Chenots wood, northeast of Verdun.

The war office announced that 250 men and ten mitrailleuses were captured in this operation.

Combles and Chaulnes, two main supports of the German line on the Somme, are being pocketed and threatened with early capture by the steady advance of the allies. The thrust that carried the French lines through the greater part of the village of Berny-en-Santerre and into the outskirts of Chaulnes yesterday afternoon was made in the face of most desperate German resistance. The Germans defended their positions with great stubbornness and time and again counter-attacked.

The French advance brought General Foch's line still closer to the Chaulnes-Peronne railway. The British push that resulted in the capture of Leuze wood, a mile from Combles, was a surprise attack made while the Germans were heavily engaged with the French in the outskirts of Combles.

The French statement adds that an effort made by German troops to dislodge the French from hospital farm on the Somme front was without success and that the Germans were dispersed with heavy losses.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—In hand-to-hand fighting last night a German force that attacked Leuze wood, near Combles, under cover of darkness, was driven back, leaving prisoners in the hands of the British, General Haig reported this afternoon. Fighting continues in the outskirts of Ginchy.

BERLIN, Sept. 7.—In successful counter-attacks south of the Somme, the Germans have wrested from the French initial advantages won at Berny-en-Santerre, Deniecourt and Chaulnes, it was officially announced today. The French, however, obtained a footing in Vermandovillers.

Dr. Jordan Silent on Chat With President

PALO ALTO, Sept. 7. — "Only President Wilson can make public the details of the recent conference in Washington," said Dr. David Starr Jordan, president emeritus of Stanford University, when asked today regarding his meeting with the nation's chief executive during his recent eastern visit. During the conference, it is learned that the possibility of peace in Europe was discussed at length.

Dr. Jordan expressed the personal opinion that the President and Congress may find some sort of mediation possible, either with the United States acting alone or in concert with other powers. He said, however, that it would be impossible to undertake mediation at this time, until the military situation abroad is more nearly settled.

Two Boys Drift Out to Sea, Are Rescued

ALAMEDA, Sept. 7. — Two Alameda boys, 7 and 5 years old, were rescued from the bay at noon today by Cyrus Arada, bridge tender of the Bay Farm Island bridge. The two boys were Harry and Dan Rustech. The children entered a boat at the foot of Deakin street, cast loose, and were drifting on the south arm of the bay for several hours. The turn of the tide caused a choppy sea that flooded the boat, which was about to sink when Arada took the children off. The boys live at 1157 Regent street.

GERMANS AND BULGARS WIN GREAT VICTORY

Capture 20,000 Rumanians and Take Town of Tutrakan on Danube.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—German and Bulgarian forces have scored the greatest victory in the Balkans since Rumania entered the war several days ago.

The strongly fortified town of Tutrakan on the Danube, blocking the way to the Rumanian capital only thirty-three miles to the northwest, has been captured with 20,000 prisoners. The Germans and Bulgarians struck a quick blow, trapped the Rumanians on the south bank of the Danube and besides capturing more than half a Rumanian army corps, bagged guns and caused the Rumanians heavy losses, Berlin reported this afternoon.

The loss of Tutrakan was officially admitted by the Russian war office this afternoon, though no mention was made of Russian forces cooperating in the defense. The German war office later announced the capture with details as to prisoners and guns.

The Rumanian defeat in the Dobrudaj region was offset in news from allied capitals reporting striking successes on both the western and eastern fronts. The German lines northeast of Verdun were thrown back in the most successful French counter-attack since the battle of Verdun began, with the single exception of the recapture of Fleury village. The French smashed the German front for nearly a mile, carrying the whole row of first-line trenches.

The Russians pressing in on the strongly fortified Galician town of Halitz, drove back the Austro-Germans to the city's very gates. Halitz is being bombarded by Russian artillery and is in flames, said an official statement issued at Petrograd, reporting other Russian gains and the capture of 5643 prisoners.

Lawyer Repudiates Woman's Confession

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Counsel for Mrs. James Barnes, who yesterday was charged with murder by a coroner's jury after an inquest over the body of her husband, today repudiated the woman's confession to the police in which she admitted the killing.

"Mrs. Barnes was subjected to every torture known to the sweat box and the third degree continued throughout the entire night," said E. N. Day, her attorney, "and she broke down under the pressure."

Two Killed in Crash of Three Vehicles

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Edward Patterson, motor policeman, and Willard Hartley, automobile man, were killed early today as a result of a double collision.

Hartley, who was driving a motorcycle down a dark street a short distance in front of Patterson, struck a farmer's wagon and was killed instantly. Patterson, who did not have time to evade the wreckage, struck the debris, landed on his head, breaking his neck. He died shortly after.

BUTTERS DIES FIGHTING ON YPRES FRONT

Son of Late Piedmont Financier Killed With Allies, Is the Cable Advice While at Bier of the Youth's Grandmother

Young Lieutenant in British Ranks Had Served With Men of Haig in Drives in Flanders and Was Lost in Trenches

Only a few hours before funeral services were held for the late Mrs. Sarah Lucinda Butters, one of the most prominent pioneer women of this county, a cablegram was received here today by relations bearing the news of the death of her grandson, Harry A. Butters, who was killed in action with the British army in Flanders.

Harry A. Butters, son of the late Henry A. Butters, the Piedmont capitalist, was a native of Oakland and was 23 years of age. He was educated in England in private schools and enlisted at the outbreak of the war in the artillery branch of the service. At the time of his death, he was a lieutenant in rank. No details of the place or manner of his death have been received.

Harry Butters was a half brother of Mrs. Augustus Bray, of Mrs. Lee Gray (Marie Butters) and of Mrs. Lincoln Karmany, wife of Colonel Karmany. Mrs. Bray, one of the prominent society women of Piedmont, was with Mrs. Karmany at Mare Island at the time the message from across the seas arrived. Mrs. Gray lives at Pebble Beach, near Del Monte.

FUNERAL TODAY.

Funeral services for Mrs. Sarah Lucinda Butters were conducted this afternoon from the residence at 2646 Telegraph avenue, Berkeley, where her death at the age of 93 years occurred yesterday morning. Rev. Fred L. Hosmer of the First Unitarian church read the ritual. The pallbearers were kinsmen and close friends of the family. Interment was by cremation.

Mrs. Butters was the widow of the late Henry A. Butters. Her children were Henry A. Butters, the Piedmont capitalist, whose death occurred a few years ago; Charles Butters, millionaire mining man of Claremont; Mrs. Phillip R. Boone, former president of Town and Gown Club and widow of the founder of Boone's academy, and Mrs. Stephen J. Field of Stockridge, Mass.

OLD FAMILY.

Her father was Rev. George W. Finney, one of the first ministers in Oakland, with whom she came to California from Haverhill, Mass., in the early '60's. When her son Charles registered at the university thirty years ago she came to this city and had since resided here. She had been in failing health for a year before her death.

Much of the young lieutenant's early childhood had been spent in Johannesberg, South Africa, and later, after attending Miss Horton's school in this city, he lived in Geneva, Switzerland. For a time also he was a student at Phillips' academy, Exeter, N. H., and finally graduated from the Beaumont college in Windsor, England.

It was with the alumni of this institution that he enlisted in the British expeditionary force that went into active service in February, 1915, but afterward he changed to the Canadian reserves. Most of the time he was at Ypres with the expeditionary force. It was in Flanders that Ben Woodworth of Berkeley, with the American ambulance corps, saw him a couple of months ago, and from there that the cable came saying: "Killed at the front. Died splendidly."

Ford Sues Newspaper for $1,000,000 Damages

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Suit for $1,000,000 was filed by Henry Ford, the Detroit manufacturer, against the Chicago Tribune, in the United States District Court here today. Mr. Ford asks for personal damages as compensation for an editorial printed in the Tribune June 23, which, it is charged, called Ford an "anarchist."

The editorial was published more than two months ago. According to the announcement which came from Lucking's office, the word "anarchist" was used in the headline of the editorial. The editorial itself censured Ford's ideas and methods.

It was learned that Ford has had the suit under contemplation for several weeks.

Santa Fe Passenger Train Wreckers Object

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 7.—What the police declare to have been a deliberate attempt to wreck the Santa Fe passenger train departing from San Diego for Los Angeles at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon is alleged to have been prevented by the discovery by a track walker of loose rails. By the discovery it is said that the lives of a majority of the 200 passengers on the train were saved. Shortly before the train was due to pass over the bridge across the San Diego river, the track walker discovered that the spikes from one rail on the bridge had been removed and the connecting plates drawn.

Hungarian Parliament in Sharp Conflicts

LONDON, Sept. 7.—A Zurich despatch says that on account of the violent opposition with which the Hungarian government is meeting in parliament measures have been taken to end the session if it becomes more aggravated. Premier Tisza, the despatch says, informed the leaders of the opposition parties that he had procured from Emperor Francis Joseph a decree proroguing parliament and that he would take the decree with him to every sitting and promulgate it if the attacks of the opposition should become too violent.

RETALIATE AMENDMENT IS STRICKEN

Conferees on Emergency Revenue Bill Eliminate Phelan's Proposal in Reference to the Seizure of Mails by British

Prohibition of Admission of Pacific Coast Fish Also Is Struck Out; Corrupt Practices Measure Cause of Trouble

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Conferees on the revenue emergency bill late today reached a final agreement. An effort will be made to dispose of the measure in the House at a night session, and administration leaders will seek to hold the Senate so that it also may act and Congress adjourn tonight.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. — Conferees on the emergency revenue bill today struck out the Phelan amendment to empower the president to retaliate against citizens of belligerent nations which interfere with United States mails. The argument which prevailed in the conference was that it might work great hardship to Americans in foreign countries by counter retaliation.

The conference abandoned the Chamberlain amendment to prohibit admission of Pacific ocean salmon or halibut through a foreign country except in bond from an American port. This, it was decided, might develop a commercial war with Canada and bring about retaliation against American Atlantic coast fisheries.

Secretary Lansing said no protest had yet been made by any foreign government against the trade reprisal provision of the revenue bill and that the legislation had been discussed informally with the British Ambassador Sir Cecil Spring-Rice. The American embassy at London cabled today that the British foreign office "will give special consideration to difficult cases where large amounts of tonnage are not involved," in the negotiations of the department to secure elimination of certain Americans from the "blacklist."

EMBARGO RETAINED.

Other Senate amendments clothing the President with retaliatory power against interference with American commerce and embargoes on American goods to foreign nations, were agreed to. They have the sanction of the state department, while the Phelan amendment did not. The conference then approached the wine taxes and dyestuff tariff, which became the principal stumbling blocks.

Majority Leader Kitchen moved to strike out the Senate amendments including duties on coal tar, medicinal derivatives and flavoring extracts. There was no fight, however, on the increases in the rates on intermediate and finished dyestuffs.

The conference eliminated the $300,000 continuing appropriations for the tariff commission. Three hundred thousand dollars was retained for 1917, but as the bill now stands the appropriations for the future is eliminated. The House managers yielded the demand for restoration of the tax on copper when the Senate conferees threw out the stamp taxes.

The income, inheritance and corporation stock taxes as fixed in the Senate bill were approved.

MAY NOT REACH VOTE.

Senator Owen was intent today on continuing his fight for the corrupt practices bill, which developed a torrent of bitter personal remarks yesterday after the Senate had voted to take up the measure. Leaders insisted, however, that the bill would not come to a vote before adjournment.

In the discussion yesterday on the corrupt practices bill Senator Curtis argued that such a measure passed when a campaign is half over might work unfairly against men who have already spent over the stipulated amount. He advocated a more stringent law than that proposed and one that would particularly restrict the use of the congressional frank to prevent senators or representatives from sending out campaign appeals at government expense. He read a letter from Senator Ashurst to a constituent reciting his record as a basis for support and said he understood that 70,000 of these had been franked out in violation of the privilege.

"If the senator charges that this is a violation of the law," said Senator Ashurst when he got the floor, 'he has sweetbreads for brains."

CITES FAMOUS MESSAGE.

He explained that his letter has been submitted and approved by the postmaster general and one of his assistants as being matter which could be franked and told how former President Taft, when in the Philippines, and Secretary of War Root exchanged cablegrams at 52 cents a word paid by the government to discuss Taft's health and a horseback ride. Calling Senator Curtis the "Pharisee from Kansas," he strode back across the center aisle and shook his finger under Senator Curtis' nose. Senator Smoot, seated just between the two, moved back in mock alarm as Senator Ashurst approached. Senator Curtis smiled but kept his seat.

A little later Ashurst turned on Senator Penrose, who said he had noticed a "copper lobby" around the capitol whose members had been talking with the Arizona senator.

"If," said Ashurst, "the senator means to say that my vote has been influenced by a copper lobby or any other lobby, he is a liar."

Several senators objected to this language and Senator Ashurst explained he had said "if" and agreed to withdraw his remark.

Several senators told of large contributions to campaigns in various states.

Fie! Fie! Quote Frat Men

Stanford Brethren Flayed

U.C. Societies Attain Mark

BERKELEY, Sept. 7.—Fraternity men at the University of California could join today the cry of "Fie! Fie!" at their fellows at Stanford university, whose inattention to bills and to scholarship has earned for them a stinging rebuke from President Ray Lyman Wilbur, according to university officials here today. For the local fraternity men have recently achieved high marks in scholarship attainments and even received from President Benjamin Ide Wheeler remarks complimentary to their diligence.

President Wilbur incorporated his reprimand in letters he addressed to the several fraternities on the "Farm." They were told that such organizations as had not bettered their scholarship and met their financial obligations with more alacrity than now would be disbanded in two years. Moreover, the president added, conditions had come to such a pass that he was ready to recommend a rule forbidding membership in fraternities at all to freshmen students.

RECORD IS HIGH.

At Berkeley almost half of the two score fraternities achieved a higher average, according to recent official reports, in their studies than the general average of all the men students in the university. More than that, the average of all the undergraduate fraternity men was 2.362 as compared with 2.394 for all men undergraduates in a scale in which "1" is perfection. The very publication at California of the fraternities with their individual standings was dictated by the fraternities as a result of efforts to raise their members' standing.

Alpha Kappa Lambda and Sigma Pi headed the list. There were a few of the fraternities that were near the dangerous foot of the list, too, among these being Delta Kappa Epsilon, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Theta Chi and Sigma Chi.

Records of the local justice court do show that Berkeley fraternities have not always paid their bills on time. Laundrymen, especially, have had to enlist judicial assistance. But these cases have been sporadic.

WILBUR'S LETTER.

President Wilbur's letter to the Stanford fraternities has caused as much interest here as commotion there. His letter was sent to each fraternity. It read as follows:

Stanford University is constantly in receipt of severe criticism because the members of its fraternities as a whole have lower scholarship records than the non-fraternity groups, and because of debts contracted by some of the fraternity houses.

When asked, as I often am, why Stanford tolerates the fraternities when it stands for high scholarship and they as university organizations, at least in individual instances, stand for lower scholarship, I am forced to answer that the fault does not lie in the fraternity system, other institutions being free from it, but does lie in the conditions existing locally in some of the Stanford fraternities, conditions that we shall endeavor to correct.

Such correction must take place. As Stanford men we desire to have all of our fraternities on a high plane, free from debt, and ranking as high, if not higher, in scholarship than the rest of the student body.

The real test of the value of a fraternity to its members, and to the university, lies in its ability to graduate its fair proportion of men each year. Failure to do so means that the fraternity is a disintegrating influence in the university; that membership in it is not advantageous to the student in regard to the real purposes for which he comes to Stanford. The fine showing, and the real improvement, made by some of the fraternities last year proves what can be done by attention to scholarship.

MUST PAY BILLS.

In order to help the fraternities and Stanford, I wish to inform you that it is intention at the end of two years, through the national organizations or otherwise, to arrange for the disbanding of any fraternity at Stanford that is in debt for current expenses or markedly deficient in scholarship. I am sure that such action will be of great benefit to every earnest fraternity now located at the university. I ask your co-operation in this endeavor to put the fraternities in the high position they should occupy at Stanford. Fraternities living up to the university requirements and with satisfactory scholarship have nothing to fear and much to gain from this action.

I am deeply interested in removing all grounds for legitimate criticism of fraternity conditions at Stanford and because of this I am planning eventually to urge a one-year residence before admission to fraternity membership.

Inquiries as to President Wheeler's attitude toward the fraternities were referred by his secretary, Newton Drury, to his recent address to the freshmen in which he complimented the fraternities, and to his statement in his annual report, in which, among other things, he said:

"In estimating the value of the fraternity house as a solution of the housing problem, it is well to admit at the start that the influence of the fraternity house upon scholarship in the past seems not to have been good. This seems to have been due chiefly to unregulated behaviour in the houses, which were therefore noisy and disorderly. There were no house rules to prevent, for instance, the piano from jangling all through the evening when others might wish to study. I have good reason to believe that during the last years members of the fraternity houses have brought about radical changes in regard to order. The house rules are now strict and mostly are obeyed.

ADVANCE SHOWN.

"Since the policy of grading the fraternities has been adopted it is noticeable that as a whole the fraternities have advanced in scholarship relative to the whole student body. They have ample room, however, for further achievement. The fraternities now enforce reasonable and proper house rules. For instance, it is the invariable custom that an under-class man, i. e., a freshman or sophomore, may leave the house only one night during the week and either one or two nights at the week-end, depending upon his standing in his studies. On the other nights it is expected that he will stay at home and study in his room, and there are fraternity officials whose sole duty it is to see that these rules are obeyed. In other fraternities some award like a cup or a scholarship is offered for the best student in a particular semester. A very great moral gain has been made by the fraternities in prohibiting alcoholic drinks from their houses."

HUGHES CENSURES PRESIDENT'S PLAN TO AVERT STRIKE

HAMPTON BEACH, N. H., Sept. 7.—Charles E. Hughes in an address here today referred to the Adamson law "not as an eight-hour a day law, but a wage law," and declared that failure of arbitration for the settlement of industrial disputes was but "another step from the abdication of government itself."

His audience applauded loudly. Continuing, the nominee said:

"We cannot afford to surrender what we have won for our institutions in this country. What have we won? We have won the right to free discussion, a free press, a democratic form of government, free assemblage, free legislatures and an executive chosen by the people. We have left autocracy. We have left tyranny. We have left force. They shall not come back if we can prevent it.

"We have recently seen what I regard as a very deplorable surrender of that principle. I am for the arbitration of industrial disputes. That is in the interest of labor. Labor cannot afford to surrender that principle.

"We have recently had at the proposal of the executive an act passed by Congress, confessedly in ignorance of the facts, confessedly in ignorance of what justice demands. It is not an eight-hour a day law. It is a wage law and nobody knows whether it was just or not.

"Now, I am for justice in everything, but I propose that in all we do we shall investigate first and then legislate. Our methods in this country are of priceless importance to us, because they are methods which conserve our peace. It is only one step from peaceful settlement of such disputes to the denunciation of our courts and all the machinery of peaceful settlement; it is only another step to the abdication of government itself."

BRITISH STEAMER SUNK.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—The British steamer Torridge, 5036 tons, has been sunk. Nineteen of the crew were saved.

THREATS AGAINST LIFE OF GOVERNOR END IN ARREST

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 7.—Following an investigation by police and secret service detectives for the last several days, C. Anapoli, an Italian, was arrested today on suspicion of having written letters to Governor Hiram W. Johnson threatening to dynamite him if he did not deliver a large sum of money.

The first of the letters was received early last week and was regarded by the Governor's private secretary with rather quiet amusement. It was thrown into the waste-paper basket along with other "crank" letters which form a large percentage of the chief executive's daily correspondence. But a second letter, following quickly upon the heels of the first, aroused the suspicion that the writer might be in earnest, and the missive was turned over to detectives.

In rapid succession during the last week, several different letters came to the Governor's office, all written in the same hand and containing virtually the same threats. In each instance, the writer demanded a large sum of money, penned vehement threats that a failure to comply with the demand would result in the destruction of the Governor's residence and the death of himself and his family.

Detectives worked on the case for several days without being able to connect the missives with the writer. Peculiarities of handwriting were the clews by which the authorship of the letters was traced, and in the arrest of Anapoli, the police believe that the anonymous writer is in the toils of the law.

The police and federal secret service men are without any clew as to whether the letters were sent by som organized blackmailing society or whether it was sent by a group of anarchists who hoped to scare Governor Johnson into paying them the money.

Senate Acts Upon Phelan Naval Plan

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Senator Phelan, who favors erection of another naval academy on the Pacific coast, secured today adoption by the Senate of a resolution calling on the secretary of the navy for any reason affecting the efficiency of the service, why naval officers should not be educated in an academy other than Annapolis, in case the class there exceeds its capacity.

OAKLAND GUARDSMEN ORDERED TO DEMOBILIZE

Fifteen Thousand Troops Are Mustered Out of Service by War Department Act; Local Militia to Return to Homes

FIFTH INFANTRY AT MOBILIZATION CAMP

Three New York Regiments, Two New Jersey, One Maryland, Three Southern and Three Coast Cos. Affected

Bronzed by the fiery sun of the desert and hardened by the duties of military life in camp, members of the Fifth California Infantry who left Oakland nearly three months ago at the call of President Wilson to protect the United States border against the attacks of Mexican armed bands, will return to their homes in a few days, mustered out of the service with the thanks of the nation and the praise of citizens for their patriotic response to the needs of their country. On arrival at the mobilization camp in Sacramento a few days ago, the troops began to hope that the order of release would come, and today the hope was made a concrete fact by the receipt of the command for the disbandment from Washington.

WAR DEPARTMENT ORDER.

The War Department official announcement says:

The Secretary of War directs that all the organization of the national guard in the federal service recently ordered from the border to their respective mobilization camps be mustered out of the federal service as soon as practicable and returned to the normal status of national guard troops except in the case of the Fourteenth New York Regiment, which is to be held in service at its mobilization camp during the prevalence in that regiment of para-typhoid.

As soon as it can be safely done this regiment also will be mustered out. Similar precaution should be taken with any other organization returning from the border suffering from any infection or which is under suspicion of being infected.

GUARD TROOPS AFFECTED.

The troops affected are three regiments from New York, two from New Jersey, one from Maryland, two from Illinois, two from Missouri, one from California, the Fifth of Oakland, one from Oregon, and one from Washington and one from Louisiana.

These units comprise in the aggregate about 15,000 national guardsmen. In instances where there is no reason to hold the troops because of disease infection, the mustering out will be done immediately.

When President Wilson issued his call for the National Guard on June 18, Oakland militiamen were among the first in the nation to report themselves as ready for entrainment. Battery B was in readiness with a complement of men well over the necessary number by the morning of June 20. Company A, Captain Silas Hanson commanding, recruited twenty men in one day and reported with ranks filled. Company F presented a more serious problem, being at the time in process of reorganization, but it was speedily rounded into shape.

QUIT RECRUITING.

Company C of Berkeley, Captain Dennis A. Daly commanding, found itself short seventy-nine men of the necessary 144, and made up the number in less than three days. Company G of Alameda was enabled to raise forty men in a few days through the activities of the officers. Recruiting in the bay cities was rapid for the week following the order for mobilization, and no difficulty was found in preparing all the local companies for service on the border.

Oakland's contribution to the service, aided by the neighboring communities, was twenty officers and 272 men in the field artillery division and forty-five officers and 537 men in the infantry arm.

The call to arms caused one marriage on the day following the proclamation. Sergeant Frank T. Ryan of Battery B, son of Deputy Building Inspector Thomas Ryan, was married to Miss Geraldine M. Sutherland of Rust by Rev. P. J. Quinn of St. Andrew's Catholic church. The honeymoon of Andrew H. Kockritz of Company C of Berkeley was interrupted by the summons to martial duty. He hurried home from Santa Cruz county to report to the colors, while his bride, who was Miss Charlotte Kickel of Oakland, returned to the home of her parents.

BATTERY B MOVED.

Before the local troops entrained for the mobilization camp at Sacramento, another military marriage was celebrated in Alameda, when Miss Phylinda Getz became the bride of Frederick Foster of Company G. The ceremony was performed by Judge L. R. Weinmann an hour before the soldier-groom left with his company.

Battery B was the first of the local units to move for Sacramento, leaving Oakland on the evening of June 23 by way of the Oakland, Antioch & Eastern railroad. On June 25, Companies A and F of Oakland, C of Berkeley, G of Alameda and H of Hayward entrained on the Oakland & Antioch, while a crowd of 2000 friends and

BERKELEY PASTOR PROTESTS TONE OF U. C. "PELICAN"

The Inconsistent Sex

"Pappa disgraced me again last evening."
"Yes, of course—what did he do?"
"He missed count and finished dinner with two knives and a fork left over."

Cartoons from the last issue of the Pelican which were objected to by a number of the readers of the student publication at the University of California.

CAMPUS HUMOR MAY CAUSE INVESTIGATION

BERKELEY, Sept. 7.—Hard upon the heels of a student movement against the Pelican, U. of C. magazine, because of the slurs in the last issue against Dean William Carey Jones of the law department, the Rotary Club, which is composed of a large number of the best-known merchants and others in Berkeley, has appointed a committee to devise means for suppressing its alleged objectionable features.

Rev. Harold E. B. Speight, pastor of the First Unitarian Church, is chairman of the committee, which includes also B. W. Perks, a local merchant, and other men of prominence. The committee was named by President George L. Schneider of the Rotary Club at a meeting of that organization when various members roundly scored the magazine for what they termed its obscenities and immoralities. President Schneider himself was among the most earnest critics of the magazine. Secretary Drury of the Chamber of Commerce seconded his remarks.

SCAN NEW ISSUE.

Now there promises to be a supplementary action to that of the Rotary Club taken by the Chamber of Commerce itself. Several of the directors of the latter body have been scanning the pages of recent Pelican issues and have declared their intention of discussing the publication at their next meeting.

Meanwhile the campus is similarly aroused. Circulation of a petition to summon E. M. Maslin, editor of the magazine, before the students' affairs committee was begun yesterday. It was said to have had received a number of signatures by noon today. It was intimated, however, that the committee had already been paying particular attention to the most recent issue with a view to learning whether independent action on its part was not justified.

The slur cast upon Professor Jones, one of the most venerable of campus figures, an authority of wide recognition on questions of jurisprudence and familiarly known in this city as the "daddy of the charter" since his service as chairman of the freeholder board which framed Berkeley's instrument of administration, is responsible for the campus agitation against the Pelican. Foremost among the circulators of the petition are students in the department of law, who resent the verses which appeared against Professor Jones under the caption, "You Are Old, Father William," and suggested that the law dean had outlived his usefulness in the department.

The Rotary Club committee, according to the statement this morning of Rev. Mr. Speight, is not vested with power to act but to report to the members possible means for achieving a reform in the Pelican's pages. Its investigations have already commenced and are directed at the magazine, not for its attack on Professor Jones in particular, but to the end of bettering its "moral tone."

TONE IS DEPLORABLE.

We had hoped that our investigation might not be publicly divulged, said Rev. Mr. Speight today, until it had been completed. The committee is given power only to report back to the club what action seems advisable.

The doggerel apparently aimed at Professor Jones did not give rise to the investigation, but the general moral tone of the magazine seemed to us deplorable and needing correction.

Professor Jones is chairman of the official board of the First Unitarian church of which Rev. Mr. Speight is pastor.

President Schneider of the Rotary Club explained this morning that the organization was forbidden by its articles of government from taking any direct action in the matter. It was not forbidden, however, he stated from "investigating."

The Rotary Club, though of recent organization in this city, has grown steadily into a powerful body. Among its members are a large number of the merchants and others whose advertisements support the assailed publication.

The members of the students' affairs committee, which is primarily responsible for student conduct at the university, include for this semester the following: F. W. Stewart, president of the Associated Students, chairman; S. S. Barrows, secretary, L. F. Krusi, H. A. Black and L. A. Nichols. The committeemen did not desire to state this morning what action, if any, they contemplated in the premises, beyond a declaration that they would consider any infringements of student rules of conduct that seemed of sufficient importance to demand investigation.

DEFENSE OFFERED.

The part of the Pelican editor is taken by Editor Robert Blake of the Daily Californian in the columns of that journal. He writes:

Because the editor of the Pelican published a poem which at most was a passing smile, students of the law school have risen to eloquence in the shape of a petition demanding that the Pelican editor be called to account for his choice of humor.

It is evident that these students do not agree with the Pelican editor on the definition of humor, in which case, the point at issue is not the motive of the editor in publishing the poem, and it is only upon his motives the petition can hope to call him to account. Whatever harm these students may have imagined resulted from the poem can be attributed to their own failure to smile.

Meanwhile the Pelican waits with a droll wink and wonders if the funny bone of students has been replaced with a nerve of misinterpretation.

This is not the first occasion on which the Pelican has been called upon the carpet or threatened with that summons. At times in the past the breadth of the wit appearing in its pages has been such as to start the students' committee into action or to call forth admonitions directly or indirectly from the office of President Wheeler himself. On no previous occasion, however, has an organization off the campus taken cognizance officially of its alleged transgressions.

Rookie Reunion Is Held for Camp Leader

Captain John Murphy, of the Presidio, San Francisco, one of the leaders in the work of organizing local classes for the recent citizen soldiers' camp at Monterey, was the guest last night at a "Rookie Reunion" held at the Hotel Oakland, when members of the Oakland class at the Preparedness Camp were entertained. The affair took the form of an informal rally. Stories of the camp were told. The student soldiers compared notes of their experiences, and plans were discussed for organizing a class double the size of the present one for next year's camp.

Captain Murphy spoke briefly of the success of the camp, declaring it to be an excellent indication that the men rallied to the plan and that big firms sent employees to the war school. He declared that the plan will give every man the opportunity to prepare for the duty of defending his country.

The meeting was under the direction of Postmaster J. J. Rosborough, and the military committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

NEW YORK CAR STRIKE IS CALLED

Biggest Transportation Tie-up in History of Gotham Starts With 5000 Strike Breakers and 5000 Policemen on Hand

Subway, Elevated and Surface Lines Are Involved, But the Officials Assert That They Can Maintain Normal Service

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—A million or more residents of New York left their homes this morning, not knowing whether they would ride to work or walk. The first test of the strike declared last night by the union employees of the elevated and subway railroads came with the morning rush hours on these main arteries of travel between the two ends of Manhattan island.

Several instances of elevated trains being bombarded with stones and bottles thrown from roofs were reported to the police shortly before 9 o'clock. Police entered the buildings and chased from the roofs gangs of men said to have been seen carrying missiles.

At 9 o'clock the Interboro Rapid Transit Company reported that express and local trains were running on normal schedule on both subway and elevated lines and with but few changes from the regular crews.

When the workers of the city started for their places of employment today the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Employees, which is conducting the strike, had been unable to tie up the subway and elevated lines, but had succeeded in crippling some of the most important surface lines. With the aid of nearly 5000 strikebreakers and under police protection the Interborough Rapid Transit Company was running its trains on subway and L on almost normal schedules. The strike of the Interboro employees has spread, however, to the carmen of the New York Railway Company, which operates all save two of the important surface lines in the boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx.

AFFECTS 18,000 EMPLOYEES.

Approximately 18,000 employees are affected. The immediate cause of the strike is the refusal of the Interboro company to release the men from an agreement to seek no further improvement in working conditions for a period of two years after the advance in pay which the men received last month. Behind these demands, however, is a contest over the unionization of the street car workers of the city, among whom the amalgamated association has gained a strong footing only during the past few months. The union employees of the Interboro company voted to strike at 9:30 o'clock last night.

In response to the railroad companies' appeal for protection 5000 policemen were released from patrol duty today and made available for strike duty.

REFUSE TO ARBITRATE.

President Theodore P. Shonts of the Interborough company said early today that normal service was being maintained on both the subway and elevated systems. Interborough officials have flatly refused to arbitrate the differences with the employees. The men struck because of the refusal of General Manager Hedley to abrogate individual "master and servant" contracts made with hundreds of employees after the recent troubles when a strike was narrowly averted.

Mayor Mitchel is expected to reach town tonight, but both union leaders and company officials declare intervention by the mayor will be useless. Both sides seemed determined to fight it out to a finish.

Strike leaders claimed today that 50 per cent of the subway and elevated employees have quit. They asserted that by tonight the power houses of both systems will be closed down and that the tieup will then be complete.

KING REVUES MUSICAL SIGNS UP CLAIR STARR

Talented Comedy Organization Is to Open Season Here

With the announcement last week of Director Charles Alphin, the well-known New York producer, who is handling the affairs of Will King, the popular Hebrew comedian, formerly of the team of Dillon & King, that he was arranging to engage only the best available talent before the footlights for the new musical "revues" to be produced soon with the clever King at the helm, comes the added information that Miss Clair Starr, the charming ingenue who was such a big favorite in the old Dillon & King days at the Columbia, when Miss Starr played the part of soubrette, will again assume the same role.

Clair Starr needs no introduction to the Oakland theater-goers. It goes without saying that the footlight admirers here will certainly be pleased to have the dainty soubrette amongst them again. Miss Starr is an Oakland product and her sweet voice, charming manner and pleasing personality is always sure to win the good graces of all her audiences.

Director Alphin announces also that the opening date Sunday, September 17, will find an entirely new show house, and promises many pleasant surprises to the public here, especially with the new idea; that of an augmented ragtime orchestra, which, he adds, "will be full pep."

Physician Marries Martinez Belle

MARTINEZ, Sept. 7.—Dr. Earl Burton Fitzpatrick and his bride are speeding north to spend a two weeks' honeymoon following their wedding here yesterday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Henry S. Shaw and took place in the new home of the couple.

The wedding was witnessed by relatives and a few intimate friends. The bride, who was Miss Josephine Irene Murray, is one of the prettiest members of the younger set. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Murray.

Mother Gives Life for Infant Daughter

MARTINEZ, Sept. 7.—The funeral of Mrs. Gertrude May Webber, who died here yesterday following an operation at the county hospital, will be held at Chico tomorrow. Her infant, Fannie Gertrude Webber, born at the hospital, is reported as doing nicely.

Mrs. Webber's remains were shipped to Chico yesterday. Deceased is survived by the widower, Fred G. Webber, three sons by a former marriage, Irad, Roy and Ernest Baker, a mother, sisters and brothers, all of Chico.

Martinez Is Offered Acres for Recreation

MARTINEZ, Sept. 7.—The offer of twenty acres of land for park purposes made by the Schneider Realty Company of San Francisco has been tabled until September 18 by the board of town trustees. The land in question is a part of the old Rankin homestead just to the west of the town, hilly, well wooded and provided with a reservoir which would make an excellent swimming pool. The realty company offered the land with the proviso that the town spend $500 annually for ten years for maintenance in labor and material.

To make the proposal more attractive a contracting firm offered to do $100 worth of work and an architect promised to prepare all the plans for landscape gardening. Trustee C. H. Hayden was strongly in favor of the acceptance of the offer, but Trustees E. A. Majors and J. E. Colton did not agree with him. They favor the creation of a park on the waterfront overlooking Carquinez Straits.

Set Date to Dedicate Mt. Diablo Flagpole

MARTINEZ, Sept. 7.—Mount Diablo Parlor, N. S. G. W., will dedicate the big flagpole on top of Mount Diablo September 17. The program is now being arranged. The Oakland, Antioch and Eastern Railroad will run special trains to Diablo. The new officers of the local parlors were installed this week.

The installation was conducted by District Deputy Grand President J. T. Belshaw of Antioch, assisted by B. Juett, J. Fredericksen and John McGinley of Antioch. The officers installed were: President, Joseph Robrecht; first vice-president, C. H. Henderson; second vice-president, A. T. Kelly; third vice-president, Robert Coots; marshal, George P. Upham; treasurer, F. R. Jones; financial secretary, J. A. Schweinitzer; recording secretary, W. R. Sharkey; inside sentinel, J. R. Booth; outside sentinel, John D. McNamara; trustees, J. H. Wells, A. N. Sullenger, A. E. Dunkel.

Night Session Is Ordered by Court

An evening session of court has been set by Superior Judge Everett J. Brown for next Monday, when he will hear further evidence in the trial of a suit brought by Wilbur F. Boardman against W. C. Crittenden for $75,000 damages. The suit involves the purchase of Oregon Gas and Electric Company stock from Crittenden by Boardman, who alleged that he had been intimidated into the transaction.

Martinez Treasurer Presents $10,000 Bond

MARTINEZ, Sept. 7.—Town Treasurer G. H. Lyford's bond of $10,000 has been approved by the town trustees and the official instructed to go ahead with his duties. Treasurer Lyford had never filed a bond since being elected to office last spring, because the surety companies wished to learn the condition of the town's finances.

FINANCIAL AID FOR MEXICO IS PLAN

NEW LONDON, Conn., Sept. 7.—Extensive financial aid for Mexico will be one of the vital problems of the American-Mexican controversy. Every effort will be made to avoid anything that suggests benevolence. But if there is assurances of lasting stable conditions below the Rio Grande, then the American government will lend its moral support to the flotation of a big Mexican loan in this country.

This was learned reliably today as the American and Mexican commissioners "recessed" in their conference until tomorrow.

MEXICAN TAXES TO BE INCREASED

LAREDO, Tex., Sept. 7.—Enormous increases in the tax rate in Mexico will become effective September 10, according to a de facto government decree of September 1, posted in Nuevo Laredo, opposite here. The largest increase is on realty and is twelve times the present tax. The school tax against real estate is increased 600 per cent, while an additional increase of 720 per cent on realty is to be imposed to create a sinking fund, making the total increase on realty holdings 2520 per cent. The object, the decree states, is to raise two billion pesos within five years to finance the republic.

The taxes are payable in non-counterfeitable Carranza currency, which at present is given a nominal value of ten cents gold per peso.

Ones, Forward! Pass in Review

Martinez Police Force Has New Uniform

Martinez is going to have a police parade, to show the new uniforms the official guardians of the peace are to wear in future. The department is to be entirely outfitted and uniformed by the city, and the policemen will then march in review before Mayor J. E. Colton, whose chose the new raiment for the force.

So the policemen will parade in uniform—both of them. Martinez boasts two "cops," the town marshal and the night watchman.

The populace is awaiting the two-man parade with high anticipation, but the parade itself feels rather dubious about it all.

REPORT DISCLOSES COUNTY'S WEALTH

MARTINEZ, Sept. 7.—The financial report compiled by County Auditor A. N. Sullenger has been submitted to the board of supervisors and approved. The report shows the wealth of Contra Costa county.

The value of real estate other than town lots is placed at $15,239,995; the improvements thereon are valued at $7,859,215; value of city and town lots, $11,244,140; improvements on city and town lots, valued at $8,865,680; total value of real estate, $26,484,135; total value of improvements on real estate, $14,664,295; value of personal property, $8,628,061; amount of money and solvent credits, $2,089,245; total value non-operative property, $51,865,736; total value property on operative roll, $2,227,416; value of railroads assessed by State Board of Equalization, $4,162,807; grand total assessable property, $58,255,959.

ALLY PEACE TERMS MORE DRASTIC NOW

Many Officials of Entente Nations Desire to See Absolute Crushing of Germany and Urge Steps to That End

Triumphant March Into Berlin, Where After-War Settlement Will Be Arranged, Is Idea Considered Not Improbable

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The allies are discussing among themselves more drastic peace terms than ever before hinted. Here are some of the demands likely to be made on Germany:

The ceding to England of Heligoland.

Neutralization of the Kiel canal.

Demolition of some of the strongest fortifications on the German borders.

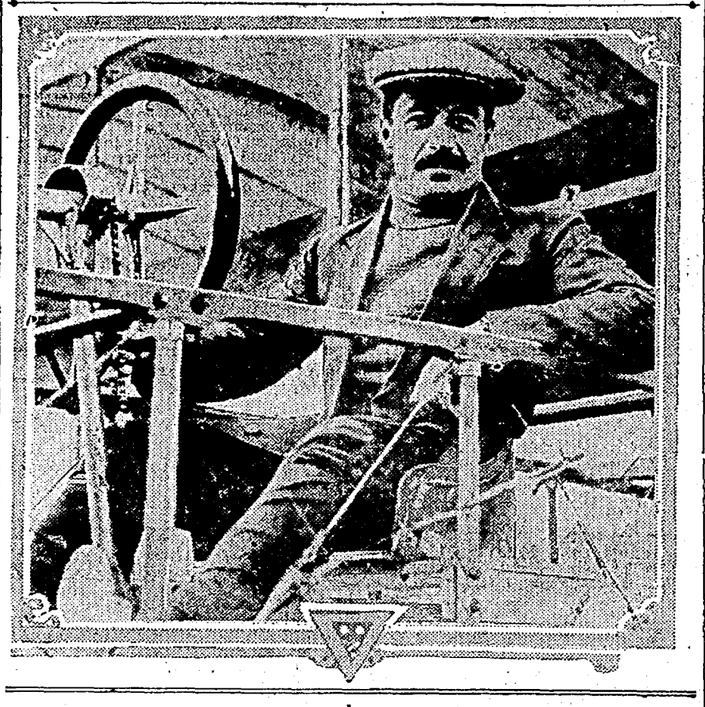

This list of demands was obtained today by the United Press from an official in close touch with allied sentiment both in this country and abroad.

There are many officials among the allied nations whose desire to see Germany "absolutely crushed" leads them to propose even harsher terms than those listed. In order to break down the power of centralized Germany, it is said these men are in favor of offering lenient peace terms to adjoining states willing to sever their political connection with the empire.

The main concern of the allies is not how long the war will last but how thoroughly Germany can be conquered, the informant said. A peace dictated by the allies at Berlin after a triumphant march through Germany to Vienna was declared not at all improbable.

Heligoland, the great German naval base in the North Sea, was purchased by Germany from England some years ago when the latter thought it was worthless. Germany, however, has made it almost an impregnable fortress.

MARCHEL, daring French birdman, the first allied aviator to fly over Germany on his way to the Russian lines. He was captured by Austrians when forced to descend in Poland for repairs.

NORWEGIAN SHIP SUNK.

OAKLAND LABEL IS DEMAND OF WOMEN

Campaign Is Started to Have Manufacturers Mark Home Products.

Oakland women today started their "Oakland Label campaign," the latest move in the home industry features that are being staged coincidentally with "Try Oakland First" week and the big home industry exposition to be held in the auditorium. The "label move" was initiated with a luncheon, under the auspices of the women's bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, at which Oakland's goods were displayed, the Oakland label urged on the housewife, and active support of local women enlisted in the fight to assist local industries.

The meeting was presided over by Gladys Lent Barndollar, head of the executive committee of the bureau. The speaker of the afternoon was Laura Bride Powers, who urged that the women seek Oakland labels on their goods, and that the manufacturers make their labels distinctive, to prevent the housewife from missing them. She said:

Proper advertising means something that catches the eye. So, manufacturers, make your labels artistic. A woman, especially, is appealed to by the artistic. There is much that can be used to make labels attractive—Oakland has some beautiful spots, for instance, that could be used for pictures. These things are important, for the box often sells the goods.

A. S. Lavenson urged that the factory men give Oakland a practical demonstration of what they can produce. He said:

Advertising does it. In Congress, at a hearing, a factory man testified that one soda cracker was as good as another, save in the imagination. The most used brand was the one that was advertised. So Oakland produces as good a soda cracker as any other city. Why not tell us so?

George W. Fitch urged that factory men at once arrange for their space at the exposition, declaring that the committee had hoped to keep it a local affair, but that if space was not taken shortly Oakland factory men would be forced to compete with San Francisco and Los Angeles factories in their own city.

Several meetings of the Women's Bureau will be held next week on the home industry plans.

EVERY DOLLAR TO DOUBLE ITS VALUE

Oakland Stores to Celebrate by Giving Bargains Next Wednesday.

A rolling stone may not gather moss,

But a rolling dollar can gather almost anything you want—if you roll it on September 13.

September 13 is "Dollar Day."

It is to be the day when a dollar will be worth all the way from two to five dollars of anybody's money on any other day. It will be the day of bargains throughout Oakland.

Dollar Day is the Oakland merchants' celebration of a prosperous year. Every store will have special Dollar Day bargains in every line—bargains in which a dollar will buy many times a dollar's worth of articles. The largest stores are already preparing packages for their "Dollar Day" sales.

In foodstuffs, clothing—in every line, in fact—there will be more than a dollar's worth for a dollar to be had in any store in Oakland.

Announcements of the Dollar Day bargains are to be made within a few days. Buyers can line up their "Dollar Day" shopping by watching the Dollar Day announcements of the stores, to be printed as fast as the different Dollar Day deals are arranged.

Better Sunday-school Teaching Is Object

The work of the Oakland Graded Union of Sunday-school teachers will be carried on this year in connection with the session of the two teacher training classes. Both classes will study the "New Testament History." The advanced classes will be taught by Rev. Levi Gregory. The first standard course will be taught by Mrs. T. H. Hageman. The first twenty minutes of the session will be given to discussion of methods, as follows:

Today — "Teaching Temperance by Story, Scripture, Song and Handwork." September 21—"Cradle Roll." October 12—"Preparation for Thanksgiving." October 26—"Lesson Building." November 9—"Preparing for Christmas." November 23—"Lesson Illustration."

Meetings will be held in educational rooms of the Y. W. C. A. building on second and fourth Thursday of each month, at 3:15 p. m.

SAN RAFAEL, Sept. 7.—"John Sullivan of Sausalito" nursed sore feet in the county jail here today after hiking twelve miles to get to jail to keep his word with "the judge." "John Sullivan of Sausalito" was sentenced to three months in jail and he borrowed a quarter from the judge to make the trip from Sausalito to San Rafael. He got thirsty, spent the quarter, so he walked. But he kept his word.

—Backache?
—Rheumatism?
—Run-down?

Those of us who are past middle age are prone to eat too much meat and in consequence deposit lime-salts in the arteries, veins and joints. We often suffer from twinges of rheumatism or lumbago, sometimes from gout, swollen hands or feet. There is no longer the slightest need of this, however, as the new prescription, "Anuric," is bound to give immediate results as it is many times more potent than lithia, in ridding the impoverished blood of its poisons by way of the kidneys. It can be obtained at almost any drug store, by simply asking for "Anuric" for kidneys or backache. It will overcome such conditions as rheumatism, dropsical swellings, cold extremities, scalding and burning urine and sleeplessness due to constant arising from bed at night.—Advertisement.

GERMAN TARS FEAR BEING BRITISH PREY

England Is Declared to Have Begun System of Capturing Teuton Seamen Interned in Neutral Ports of America

Four Stowaways Say They Were Warned by Captains 1500 of Their Countrymen May Go to Prison Camps

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—England has begun a system of capturing the German seamen aboard German ships voluntarily interned in foreign ports, according to four German stowaways, who arrived here today. Along both shores of Central and South America has been whispered the word that all German sailors are to be seized and interned by Great Britain, and the men aboard the sixty odd German vessels anchored and idle in two score ports below the Mexican line are preparing to quit their vessels and get to a safe refuge, preferably the United States, it is declared by the four sailors.

The advance guard of the coming Germans arrived aboard the American steamer Jim Butler. They are three sailors and a cook from two of the nine interned German ships at Santa Rosalia, Mex. They stowed away on the Jim Butler as the steamer sailed for this port.

CAPTAINS GAVE WARNING.

They explained to the ship's officers that their commanders told them to go, and also told them to talk as little as possible until the remainder of the crews have time to depart.

This morning, as they begged government officials to allow them to land in this couuntry rather than face internment in a British concentration camp, they repeated the story. The four, all beardless youths but one, were sent to Angel Island for examination. They probably will be landed by the immigration department. The men are Alvin Hoffman, 21 years old; Henrica Marenarde, 19; Frederick Kootz, 19, and Henrick William Sienenig, 38.

Sienenig is the cook, and a picturesque character. He is well known along the waterfront of San Francisco. He has called here half a dozen times on steamers, and worked two years at local restaurants.

GERMANS FEAR CAPTURE.

The interned German vessels in Central and South America are manned by upward of 1500 Germans. All the vessels, according to the four men, have been secretly notified that England plans to take them prisoners and all have been told to get to the United States as quickly as possible. Already, it was said, two crews of sailing vessels moored in small ports on the west coast of South America have been captured by a British man-of-war and no one knows where they were taken.

Drug User Escapes From Chaingang

George Gould, who was a week ago sentenced to a thirty-day term in the city jail following his conviction on a charge of using drugs, escaped from the chaingang as it started work on the Tunnel road this morning. The police of neighboring cities have been asked to look for him.

Gould was one of the band of men which daily works on the outlying roads of the city under the direction of the police officers. As the band filed down to the quarry at the side of the road this morning he managed to secrete himself in a cleft in the rocks and make his escape.

Woman Victim of Slayer's Jealousy

BAKER, Ore., Sept. 7.—Mrs. Mary Davis, who was killed last night by Harvey Shoemaker, who then committed suicide, was the victim of the latter's jealousy, according to George Howard, who was arrested today as a witness. Howard told the police that he was calling on Mrs. Davis last night when Shoemaker entered the room and began shooting.

Hotels Aid One To Keep Thin

Non-Fat Viands on Many Menus

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The craze to reduce which has been so rampant among obese male and female New Yorkers today inspired New York hotels to cater to the seekers after slenderness with especial menus.

One big hotel has employed an expert in dietetics to prepare food that can be eaten with all the recklessness of a stevedore and at the same time not endanger the embonpoint.

The new daily menus are called "madah menus" and across the top in quotations is the line "Eat and Grow Thin Suggestions." Here is the luncheon menu:

Cold fish in vinegar; radishes, puree of spinach; broiled veal cutlet, boiled onions, beets, compote of stewed fruit and assorted fresh fruit.

Dinner dishes include broiled chicken giblets with mushrooms, roast spring lamb, chicory, tomato or cucumber salad and fresh fruit compote.

SAILORS MUST HAVE U. S. PASSPORTS

Russia Announced New Rule Regulating Shore Liberty of Mariners.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—American sailors visiting the ports of Russia and the city of Hong Konog, will be required to have passports following a new rule recently made and just announced by E. T. Chamberlain, commissioner of navigation at Washington in a communication to Collector of the Port John O. Davis today.

A cable from the American ambassador at Petrograd tells of the repeal of the former Russian law allowing sailors of foreign nationalities to land without passports. The new law makes it necessary for the crews of foreign ships to be protected with papers showing their allegiance. Otherwise they will not be allowed to visit the cities where their ships may dock.

The British government has made a similar order in connection with the port of Hong Kong. Every nation is affected with the exception of China and the regulations are more rigid than is the case with Russia. Passports with photographs of the holder must be procured from the home government by sailors and officers of merchant vessels. Collector Davis has been instructed to notify all navigation companies of the new law.

Kahn's to Offer Cooking Lectures

Reduction of the hight cost of living by commonsense management in the kitchen and simple scientific methods in the preparation of food will be considered in the domestic science lectures and cooking demonstrations which Mrs. Norah B. Gardner is to give for twelve afternoons, beginning next Monday.

Mrs. Gardner is a graduate of the famous Boston School of Cookery. Her lectures and demonstrations at the Sperry exhibit at the Panama-Pacific Exposition won for her the reputation as premier domestic scientist of the great world's fair. She comes to Oakland under the auspices of Kahn's and the Sperry Flour Company.

All women of the community are invited without charge to Mrs. Gardner's lectures, which will be given at Kahn's for twelve afternoons, beginning next week. The first lecture will be Monday, and, like the eleven succeeding, will begin promptly at 2:30 p. m.

Gates to Lecture on "Evolution of Species"

Dr. R. Ruggles Gates, formerly of the University of London and now a member of the faculty of the University of California, will address a meeting of the California Botanical Society on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the Oakland Public Museum. His lecture will deal with "The Origin of Species by Mutation" and will be illustrated with lantern slides. The public is invited.

Dr. Gates was conducting experimental work at Washington University in St. Louis, when the war broke out two years ago. Unable to return to his collegiate work in England, he accepted an offer from the University of California. He is working out elaborate experiments on the evening primrose along the line initiated by the famous botanist, Hugo De Vries, whose mutation theory threatens to overturn the Darwinian hypothesis of the incremental evolution of species.

GIRLS TO SPONSOR VAUDEVILLE SHOW

Technical High School Will Be Scene of Reception and Entertainment.

Over six hundred girls will be present tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Oakland Technical High School auditorium, when the girls of the three higher classes hold a reception and entertainment in honor of the freshmen girls. A ten-act vaudeville performance will be given, the program consisting of skits, dancing and song revues. Following the vaudeville, a reception and dancing are scheduled.

An address by Principal P. N. Fisher will be one feature of the program, with another talk of helpful advice by Miss Rose Wilder, Dean of Girls' Affairs in the high school. The Girls' Band will open and close the vaudeville with selections.

Miss Dorothy Shane is general manager of the entertainment. Assisting her are: Mary Eccleston, assistant general manager; Gladys Vander Naillen, financial manager; James Bretherton, stage manager, and Raymond Kitchener, property manager. The two boys and their stage hand helpers are the only members of the masculine sex who will help in the entertainment. Principal Fisher will be the only man present.

The program consists of the following numbers:

Overture, Girls' Band; "History of the Dance," a series of steps, showing the growth of the dance through the ages, by thirteen girls; "The Coon Comedy," a skit, with Ethel Towle and Helen Bronsen; addresses to the freshman girls, Principal P. N. Fisher and Miss Rose Wilder, dean of Girls' Affairs; candy chorus, with fifteen girls; "In Madam's Fashion Shop," a skit and fashion show, with thirty girls taking part; "A College Chorus," skit in two scenes, with thirty-two girls, "The White Surprise," skit before the curtain, Mary Eccleston and Hazel Such; Freshman Welcome, with thirty-five girls showing symbolically what is expected of the new pupils; closing overture, Girls' Band. Dancing and a reception follow the program. Over 130 girls will take part in the program.

Municipal Bus Is Planned for S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—Automobile buses as a part of a municipal passenger traffic service are to be tried out in this city for the first time in the United States, according to the plans of the Board of Supervisors. If the arrangements now being made go through without delay, buses running on regular schedules will be carrying passengers as an integral part of the municipal railway, before the year is out.

The plans call for a line across Golden Gate park connecting with the street cars of the municipal line at Ninth avenue and Fulton street and running across the park to Ninth avenue and Lincoln way. The route will then be out Ninth Avenue to Judah street and along that thoroughfare to Thirty-third avenue. The buses will run on a headway of from seven to twelve minutes and transfers will be issued to the municipal line.

The project has been definitely decided upon by the public utilities committee of the Board of Supervisors and the city engineer has been notified that the committee will recommend to the board at next Monday's meeting that specifications be prepared for the most desirable type of bus.

Society Vultures Are Pictured on Screen

"Traffic in Souls," at the Broadway, is a white slave film.

The story opens in New York, with young girls going to their employment, and shows how vultures of society pick out the girls that they want, locate where they work and then set their gangs to work to get them.

It shows the different methods used and also how these gangs are rounded up by the police and the desperate struggles that they engage in.

"Traffic in Souls" pictures the masters of ingenious crime, is thrilling and exciting and carries a distinct plot.

Charley Chaplin in "The Count," on the same bill with this big six-reel feature, is a hilarious comedy. He introduces many new bits of business to provoke laughter in the most staid and dignified.

Army Aeroplane Is Wrecked in Accident

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 7.—An explosion that wrecked one cylinder of an army aeroplane, piloted by Lieutenant H. C. Davidson while 4000 feet in the air, crippled the machine and compelled the aviator to volplane to an open field near Encinitas. This was the only mishap sustained by the flotilla of five aircraft that participated in a flight today from San Diego to Los Angeles and return.

At the time of the explosion Lieutenant Davidson was flying at a speed of seventy miles an hour. Pieces of the cylinder, he said, flew around his head and ripped several holes in the upper wing section of the machine.

S. F. Physician Starts Divorce Proceedings

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—Dr. James Hegyessy, a physician of 2560 Mission street, began divorce action against Florence Maud Hegeyssey today, declaring she has refused to return to him following her desertion in Nevada City in 1910.

To Free Your Skin of Hair or Fuzz

(Boudoir Secrets)

No toilet table is complete without a small package of delatone, for with it hair or fuzz can be quickly banished from the skin. To remove hairs you merely mix into a paste enough of the powder and water to cover the objectionable hairs. This should be left on the skin about 2 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed, when it will be found free from hair or blemish. Be sure you get genuine delatone.—Advertisement.

EDITORIAL

Few people realize the importance of compounding prescriptions properly.

Most people think that if the proper ingredients in the prescribed proportions are used the prescription must be all right.

This isn't necessarily the case.

Take, for example, an eye ointment. The least little particle not properly incorporated might prove to be more of an irritant than the healing properties of the ingredients of the prescription could offset.

Careful, scientific compounding, using the latest and best appliances, the employment of the best pharmacists in the prescription business, pure drugs and no substitution, are always certain at Bowman's.

The big business of this department enables us to afford the best of help and the best of facilities.

Your prescriptions should be as perfect as it is possible to make them. It isn't much fun to take medicine, but when it IS necessary you want it to do the work.

HOW MUCH DO YOU THINK OF YOUR FACE?

You are probably going to skip off on a week-end over the 9th.

If such is your contemplation, we suggest that you take, in addition to your husband and other necessary baggage, a bottle of Benzoin Cream—25c.

When you start out apply a liberal quantity of this cooling lotion to your face. Don't try to battle the elements with an unprotected complexion, because, as the comedian says, "It can't be did."

Benzoin Cream protects the skin against sunburn, chap and freckles. If you'll use it you'll come home looking like a human being, ready to meet your friends face to face without apology.

This lotion is the most satisfactory article of its kind we know of. Ladies who are using it tell us so many nice things about Benzoin Cream that we wish we had complexions of our own to protect. We use it after shaving. It's fine for that, also.

IF YOU'RE A SNAP SHOOTER, LOOK THIS OVER

How many snap shots are you going to take on Admission Day?

Of course, you don't know.

Maybe three or four rolls and maybe none at all.

All right, we will meet the situation!

Come in tomorrow and take along as many rolls as you think you'll need. Use them as occasion requires and then some day next week bring back the rolls you did not use and we will credit you with them.

By the way, have you had any enlargements made of your vacation pictures? Don't put it off too long. It's always a good idea to send a couple of enlargements to your vacation companions. Such remembrances are mightily appreciated.

Speaking of kodaking, don't forget that we have cameras from $1.00 up.

Remember, also, that we carry all kinds of photographers' supplies, both for professional and amateur. Of course, you know we do a large developing and printing business.

A FREE SEPIA ENLARGEMENT TO CUSTOMERS

The manager of the Kodak Department has a liberal streak.

Take advantage of it before he changes his mind.

This is what he said to the writer yesterday afternoon:

"Tell the people that we will give anyone an 8x10 sepia enlargement of any one of their pictures free whenever they spend five dollars in the Kodak Department. It is not necessary that the five dollars be spent at one time. Those interested can save their sales tags, and whenever they amount to $5.00 they'll get the enlargement for nothing."

Having delivered the message, I thank you.—K. C. B. Jr.

MAN YIELDS SECRET OF FATAL FIRE

J. J. Moss, San Jose Laborer, Confesses Destroying Home of A. Juarez, of Oakland, When Woman Spurns Love

Desire for Revenge Against the Wife of Friend Results in Death of Sleeping Infants; Prisoner Is Held in San Jose

John J. Moss, San Jose laborer, held on the charge of burning the San Jose home of A. Juarez, Oakland cement man, has confessed to the police, it was declared today in messages received from that city. Moss declares that he set fire to the place while Mrs. Mary Juarez, wife of the Oakland man, was out on an errand. Her two children were burned to death in the blaze.

Moss, who was a boarder in the Juarez home, declared to Detective Dreischmeyer that he was fired with anger and desire for revenge when Mrs. Juarez rejected his advances. He was suspected of the crime when found in the county hospital, injured by leaping from the window of the house after upsetting a lamp.

The fire occurred on August 21. The two children, John, aged 5, and Thomas, aged 3, were in bed for the night when Moss arrived at the home. He and Mrs. Juarez, whose husband was in Oakland, had a violent quarrel, he accusing her of having an appointment with another man. She left the house.

Angered, Moss says, he went to the kitchen and obtained a can of kerosine and emptied the oil on the floor. He says he did not intend to burn the house down, but simply to scare Mrs. Juarez with a small blaze. The flames, he said, went beyond his control.

Mrs. Juarez is in Oakland with her husband and will return to testify when the prisoner comes to trial.

Rotary Club Men Meet at Luncheon

Preparations for the Rotary Club excursion to Sacramento were discussed today at the luncheon of the Rotary Club in the Hotel Oakland, and in addition the plans for the Oakland Industrial Exposition were taken up, and several other business matters considered.

The club leaves for Sacramento to attend the State Fair Rotary Day tomorrow morning.

"Try Oakland First" week was discussed at the luncheon today by Frederick B. Hink, who told of the campaign of Oakland merchants and factory men to induce the people of Oakland to give their home merchants and manufacturers a chance to demonstrate their goods. A. R. Carter, president of the club, was in charge of the affair.

Young Crosby's Death Caused by Accident

Mute evidence which tends to prove that the death of Cecil Crosby, 15-year-old son of Dr. Daniel Crosby, was an accident instead of suicide was presented to the coroner's jury last night, resulting in a verdict of accidental death.

Near the youth's body was found a small nail file which he was known to have carried. The file and the revolver with which he met his death bore marks which indicated that he had been endeavoring to extract a shell or adjust the mechanism of the revolver when it was discharged. The bullet struck him in the forehead.

U. S. Survey to Be Made of West Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—The Pacific coast from Tia Juana to Alaska will be resurveyed next year and more exhaustive charts of the waters for ten miles off shore will be made by the United States government, according to R. S. Patton, in charge of the coast pilot section of the coast and geodetic survey. Submerged rocks will be sought out and charted, said Patton, who added that especial attention will be paid to the coast of Mendocino county, which has a number of uncharted reefs and waters that have baffled navigators for years.

BURY REALTY MAN IN NORTH.

Funeral services for the late William Best, a well-known realty dealer of Oakland who died suddenly while on a business trip to the Pacific northwest, were held Tuesday in Seattle. Best was a native of Canada and 60 years of age. For several years past he had been engaged in the real estate business in this city and made his home in the Madison Park apartments. Last week he visited Seattle in the interest of a land deal and while there succumbed to a sudden attack of heart failure. Miss Winifred Best, a daughter, is the only surviving relation in Oakland.

Vags Offer Prayer For Kind Woman

'Mother' Walker Honored in Death

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—Lips long unused to words of prayer today muttered a final plea for the peaceful rest of "Mother" Eliza Anna Walker.

As bells tolled in the Church of the Nazarene, ragged, unshaven men, men with hardened eyes and mouths, beggars, drunkards and thieves stood with bent heads in the corridor of the city prison to pay tribute to the kindly woman who had brought sunshine into shadowland.

One man who has heard the jail doors clang on him so often that he does not know the number came to the jail door with a scraggly bouquet in a hand that trembled from the effort of keeping sober on this solemn occasion.

"Put this on her coffin," he told the officer. Then he walked away to get the drink he had denied himself all morning.

The old "standbys" in the jail had not forgotten that "Mother" Walker has for years been their friend. Year in and year out, she has brought them goodies on Christmas and talked to them in motherly fashion.

Shingler Dies From Fracture of Skull

Failing to rally from a trephining operation, Thomas Busha, a shingler of 2425 Wallace street, died early this morning from a fractured skull, suffered in a motorcycle accident. Busha, with F. E. Palmer, 1363 Curtis street, West Berkeley, on the rear seat of the machine, was traveling at a moderate speed, when at Fifty-first avenue and East Fourteenth street the wheel skidded, throwing the riders to the pavement. Palmer escaped with minor bruises and lacerations. Busha was rushed to the emergency hospital with a basal fracture of the skull. Drs. Hamlin, Reinle and Smith performed the operation.

Aked Faction May Leave S. F. Church

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—A possible withdrawal of a large portion of the Aked supporters from the membership of the First Congregational Church loomed up today as the latest development in the series of stormy altercations over the choice of a pastor. While it is certain that some will leave, the cooler heads on both sides are willing to let the matter rest in its present state in the hope that a split can be avoided.

Later another call may be extended to Rev. H. J. Bradley of Worcester, Mass., as it is thought he declined the call, owing to the bitter fight made over the attempt to recall Aked to the pulpit.

Fageol Defendant in Divorce Action

Mrs. Eugenie Fageol has obtained an interlocutory decree of divorce from Claude Fageol, a local automobile man, whom she said failed to understand her sense of humor. On one occasion, she testified, she started to light a cigarette as a joke and he knocked it out of her hand, calling her a "boob."

Vyonne A. Furrer wants a divorce from George Furrer, claiming that he called her a "shrimp" and told her that he was sorry he married her.

Ground Cleared for Postoffice Annex

Work has been started clearing the ground adjoining the Oakland postoffice, recently purchased by the department for the new postoffice addition. The building to be erected will be temporary, to house the immediate needs of the office, which has outgrown its present quarters. Eventually a new building, duplicating the present structure, and doubling its floor space, will be constructed. The temporary structure will be of corrugated iron.

SUFFRAGE ASSOCIATION BARS UNHARMONIOUS ORGANIZATIONS

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt Tells National Convention Delegates Woman's Hour Has Struck; Opportunity Here

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 7.—The American National Union Suffrage Association today changed its constitution so far as to bar from membership all organizations not in harmony with the policy and organization of the assocation. A report that the action was aimed at organizations affiliated with the Congressional suffrage union, or the woman's party was denied, but it was admitted that it affects such organizations, though not specially aimed at them.

An amendment making the terms of officers two years was adopted. Another amendment providing for the affiliation of state organizations in each state was referred to a committee to report at the next convention.

The annual address of the president, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, was the feature of the afternoon session. Mrs. Catt pictured the suffrage movement as having reached a crisis which means that "The Women's Hour Has Struck!" Earnestly, she exhorted the women not to lose heart but to recognize the present opportunity which "if seized with vigor, enthusiasm and will, means the final victory of our great cause in the very near future." She said, in part:

WAR MEANS CHANGE.

The great war will bring untold changes in its wake; it presages a total change in the status of women. In Europe, from the Polar Circle to the Aegean Sea, women have risen and taken the places made vacant by men, and in so doing they have grown in self-respect and in the esteem of their respective nations. Indeed, Europe is realizing as it never did before, that women are holding together the civilization for which men are fighting. A great searchlight has been thrown upon the business of nation-building and it has been demonstrated in every European land that it is a partnership with equal but different responsibilities resting upon the two partners.

The war will soon end and the armies will return to their native lands. To many a family the men will never come back. The husband who returns to many a wife will eat no bread the rest of his life save of her earning.

WOMEN WILL PROTEST.

What then will happen after the war? Will the widows left with families to support cheerfully leave their well-paid posts for those commanding lower wages? Not without protest! The economic axiom, denied and evaded for centuries, will be emblazoned on every factory, counting house and shop; "Equal pay for equal work"; and common justice will slowly but surely enforce that law. The European woman has risen. She may not realize it yet, but the woman "door-mat" in every land has unconsciously become a "door-jamb." She will have become accustomed to her new dignity by the time the men come home. She will wonder how she ever could have been content lying across the threshold now that she discovers the upright jamb gives so much broader and more normal a vision of things.

In Great Britain, which was the storm center of the suffrage movement for some years before the war, hundreds of bitter, active opponents have confessed their conversion to woman suffrage on account of the war services of women. Already three great provinces of Canada—Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan—have given universal suffrage to their women in sheer generous appreciation of their war work. Even Mr. Asquith, world renowned for his immovable opposition to the Parliamentary suffrage for British women, has given evidence of a change of view. Some months ago he announced his amazement at the utterly unexpected skill, strength and resource developed by the women and his gratitude for their loyalty and devotion. A public statement issued by Mr. Asquith in August was couched in such terms as to be interpreted by many as a pledge to include women in the next election bill.

MRS. CARRIE CHAPMAN CATT.

STATUS IS CHANGED.

The significance of the changed status of European women has not been lost upon the men and women of our land; our own people are not so unlearned in history, nor so lacking in national pride that they will allow the Republic to lag long behind the Empire, presided over by the descendant of George the Third. If they possess the patriotism and the sense of nationality which should be the inheritance of an American, they will not wait until the war is ended, but will boldly lead in the inevitable march of democracy, our own American specialty.

As the most adamantine rock gives way under the constant dripping of water, so the opposition to woman suffrage in our own country has slowly disintegrated before the increasing strength of our movement.

The edifice of woman's liberty nears completion. Over our heads, tantalizing near, hangs the roof of our edifice—the vote. What is our duty?

Shall we spend time in admiring the cap-stones and cornice? Shall we lament the tragedies which accompanied the laying of the cornerstones? Or shall we, like the builders of old, chant, "Ho! all hands, all hands, heave to! All hands, heave to!" and while we chant, grasp the overhanging roof and with a long pull, a strong pull and a pull all together, fix it, in place forevermore?

Let us then take measure of our strength. Our cause has won the endorsement of all political parties; Every candidate for the Presidency is a suffragist. It has won the endorsement of most churches; it has won the hearty approval of all great organizations of women. It has won the support of all reform movements; it has won the progressives of every variety. The majority of the press in most States is with us. Great men in every political party, church and movement are with us. The names of the greatest men and women of art, science, literature, philosophy, reform, religion and politics are on our lists.

We have not won the reactionaries of any party, church or society, and we never will. From the beginning of things, there have been antis. Before the vote is won, there must and will be a gigantic final conflict between the forces of progress, righteousness and democracy and the forces of ignorance, evil and reaction. That struggle may be postponed, but it cannot be evaded or avoided. There is no question as to which side will be the victor.

MOVEMENT LACKS COHESION.

Shall we play the coward, then, and leave the hard knocks for our daughters, or shall we throw ourselves into the fray, bare our own shoulders to the blows and thus bequeath to them a politically liberated womanhood? Our movement is like a great Niagara, with a vast volume of water tumbling over its ledge, but turning no wheel. Our organized machinery is set for the propagandist stage and not for the seizure of victory. Our supporters are spreading the argument for our cause; they feel no sense of responsibility for the realization of our hopes. Our movement lacks cohesion, organization, unity and consequent momentum.

Behind us, in front of us, everywhere about us are suffragists, millions of them, but inactive and silent. Were never another convert made, there are suffragists enough in this country, if combined, to make so irresistible a driving force that victory might be seized at once.

How can it be done? By a simple change of mental attitude. If you are to seize the victory, that change must take place in this hall, here and now! The old belief, which has sustained suffragists in many an hour of discouragement "woman suffrage is bound to come," must give way to the new, "The Woman's Hour Has Struck." That slogan sets the pace of a crusade which will have its way. It says: "Awake, arise, my sisters, let your hearts be filled with joy—the time of victory is here. Onward march!"

ORGANIZE AND TALK.

Give heed at once to the organization of the reserves; and then to the work that they shall do. Organize in every assembly district and every voting precinct. It is the only way to make our appeal invincible. Swell the army, then set it upon the trail of every legislator and Congressman, for they alone hold the key to our political emancipation. Compel this army of lawmakers to see woman suffrage, to think woman suffrage, to talk woman suffrage every minute of every day until they heed our plea.

All this is mere preparedness for the final drive to victory. The next question is: What shall be our aim? To my mind, the insistence of the enfranchisement of the women of our land by Federal amendment is the only self-respecting course to pursue.

In explaining her reasons for this stand, Mrs. Catt reviewed the fight for suffrage in many States and the obstacles it had met from the liquor interests, and charged there had been widespread resort to illegal practices to defeat suffrage, whereas in a majority of the States of the Union—in 25 of them—there was no provision made by law for any form of contest or recount on a referendum. "Political corrupters may, in these States, bribe voters, colonize voters and repeat them to their hearts' content and redress of any kind is practically impossible."

"In my judgment," she concluded, "the women of this land, not only have the right to sit on the steps of Congress until it acts, but it is their self-respecting duty to insist upon their enfranchisement by that route."

relatives of the men wished them good fortune.

Immediately after the departure of the National Guard for the camp on their way to the Mexican border, the committee on military affairs of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce began the collection and administration of a fund for the relief of the families and dependents of militiamen, whose regular income had been cut off by their entrance into the ranks. Several firms and individual employers continued the regular salaries of their military employees, but this could not be done in the majority of cases.

SUBSCRIPTIONS RAISED.

Subscriptions to the fund were made by the public to the amount of nearly $3000 and this sum was entirely dispensed in the supplying of food and clothing and the payment of rent for dependents of the guardsmen.

The only event of note that occurred at Sacramento before the departure of the Alameda county troops for the border was the mental breakdown of Sergeant T. K. Henderson of Company C of Berkeley, who suffered an attack of hallucinatory insanity after brooding over his business affairs. He ordered a squad of men to march up and down the steps of the armory and later fired a shot from his revolver at Lieutenant Fred Hopkins of Fresno, when the latter refused to halt at his command. He was committed to the asylum at Stockton.

Shortly after the arrival of the troops at Nogales and their encampment near the Mexican border Colonel Edwin G. Hunt was disqualified for active service as the commanding officer of the Fifth regiment because of his failure to pass the rigid physical tests of the regular army physicians. A weakness of the heart, which it was feared might cause trouble in active operations at the comparatively high altitude, was responsible for the order removing him from command.

DISCOVER ARMORY LOOTED.

Applications of members of the Fifth regiment with dependent families for discharge in order that they might resume the care of their loved ones resulted in the return early in August of a few of the militiamen. At that time the discovery was made that thieves had broken into the armory at 539 Twenty-fourth street and stolen clothing and personal belongings of members of Battery B to the amount of $1000.

Members of Company C of Berkeley were those of the local guardsmen who came the nearest to being under fire from Mexican guns. Early on th emorning of August 4 a Mexican sniper shot and wounded Sentry Claude Howard of the Twelfth United States Infantry, who was patrolling a beat opposite the residence of Ignacio Bonillas, minister of foreign affairs. As Howard fell, shot in the thigh, he fired three times in the direction of the sniper and aroused the guard.

At the sound of the shots, the Mexicans began approaching their end of the international bridge in a threatening manner, and Company C was rushed to the scene. As the morning wore along to dawn, the Mexicans became more and more offensive in their attitude and for a time it looked almost certain that there would be a clash at arms. The Berkeley troops stood guard at the bridgehead all day until relieved by regulars.

Relief for Catarrh Sufferers Now FREE

You Can Now Treat This Trouble in Your Own Home and Get Relief at Once.

How the Remedy for Catarrh Was Discovered.

By the new method the nose and throat are treated by an effective local remedy applied directly to the afflicted membranes.

The Elixir, taken into the stomach, has a direct influence upon the mucous membranes of the body and cures the disease by removing the cause.

THIS terrible disease has raged unchecked for years simply because symptoms have been treated while the cause of the trouble has been left to circulate in the blood, and bring the disease back as fast as local treatments could relieve it.

C. E. Gauss, who experimented for years on a treatment for Catarrh, found that after perfecting a balm that relieved the nose and throat troubles quickly, he could not prevent the trouble beginning all over again.

On test cases, he could completely remove all signs of Catarrh from nose and throat, but in a few weeks they were back.

Careful experiments and investigations have shown that as the troubles were expelled from the nose and throat, the real cause of the disease was overlooked and in a short time the Catarrh would return stronger than ever. Mr. Gauss has gone way ahead of the ordinary methods of treatment and has provided a remedy that

Removes the Cause
and Immediately Gives Relief to the Nose and Throat

Reese Jones, of Scranton, Penn., says that after trying many other treatments, he used this new method and—"My nose is now entirely clear and free and I am not bothered by the disease any more. The New Combined Treatment is worth its weight in gold."

Temporary relief from catarrh may be obtained in other ways, but the New Combined Treatment must inevitably be accepted for permanent results.

Sarah J. Cape, Mount Pelia, Tenn., says, "I suffered the pains and distress of catarrh for thirteen years and needless to state, tried nearly every method. But by your new method I was completely cured and you cannot imagine the joy that has come over me."

Oregon Short; No Funds for Car Fare

Mathison Arrested Here Released on Wire

If Oregon had sufficient funds in its treasury, Fred G. Mathison, who lives at 1515 Alice street in this city, would have to stand trial on a charge of obtaining property under false pretenses. But Oregon has not the sufficient funds, and that is the reason that Walter J. Petersen received a telegram today informing him that the person of Mathison was no longer desired in Oregon. Mathison has been released from custody.

Mathison was arrested three days ago on advice from Sheriff J. C. Parker of Eugene, Ore., saying that he was wanted for the alleged mulcting of Western Oregon farmers out of more than $40,000. He immediately took his case into the Superior Court on habeas corpus proceedings, where it still pends. Parker's message today reads:

"Release Mathison. The governor will not grant requisition papers. No funds."

According to the Oregon authorities, Mathison sold hundreds of acres of land to farmers, having secured the property through false representation and the presentation of fake deeds to Texas land, which he gave in exchange for the Oregon land.

Blind Clergyman Dies at Age of 83

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The Rev. Adam McClelland, who came to this country as a blind Irish immigrant, died in Brooklyn Monday at the age of 83 after nearly 60 years of work as minister, professor and teacher of the blind. He lost his sight at the age of 7. Despite this handicap, he studied at New York University, which gave him a degree of doctor of philosophy. He was graduated from the Union Theological Seminary, and for 25 years was a Presbyterian clergyman in Brooklyn, resigning to become professor of ecclesiastical history in the Presbyterian Theological Seminary at Dubuque, Ia. This chair he surrendered in 1904.

Dancing all the latest dances, singing all the new and old songs, reproducing a Paderwiski masterpiece or playing any of the church hymns are only a few of the many evenings' entertainments that may be had in your home if you have a Bungalow player piano.

It's Easy to Play

Anyone, old or young, can play the player piano. Thousands of Oakland homes have players. Trade in your silent piano. Have our appraiser call and see your piano right away.

PLAYER NOT EXPENSIVE

The Bungalow Player Piano is not an expensive piano in price, but your dollars work double. You get quality, lots of it. From a quality standpoint, the Bungalow player piano is known in the music trade among other dealers as an outlaw or freak. Competition can't touch it; they have tried to copy. Some have succeeded in a way, in general appearances, but the musical qualities and durability were lacking. Purchasers have often been talked into taking an inferior article with the assurance that they were getting a Player "just as good." They could not give the musical qualities contained in the Bungalow Player Pianos at anywhere near the price. We have made a special of the Bungalow Player. Admitted the margin of profit is very small, but we make new friends, life-long friends, who send us their friends. We are glad to be able to offer such money value. VARIED BILL OFFERED BY PLAYHOUSES

Oakland Theater-goers Have a Big Variety to Make Their Choice From; Vaudeville, Film Drama and Legitimate

Orpheum, Pantages, Macdonough, Oakland Photo, Franklin, Reliance, Idora Park Are Headliners for the Week

Oakland is very fortunate in that it has plenty of variety to its amusement. The list goes right along the scale from moving pictures to vaudeville—and there is plenty of both. At the Orpheum, excellent vaudeville and a Rupert Hughes farce are making laughter as common as roast beef. But there's more relish to the Orpheum show, however, than to the mat.

Seven varied and roundly applauded vaudeville acts are shown for the public's approval at Pantages this week. The public seems to be approving. A championship walking match, a collapsible musical comedy, vaudeville and a new film serial complete an interesting bill.

In the realm of the film, the Franklin is offering Theda Bara of "Vampire" fame in "Under Two Flags," together with Bessie Barriscale, Charles Ray and Louise Glaum in "Home."

The Oakland is showing Sessue Hayakawa, Japanese actor, in the role of a gardener in "The Honorable Friend," a drama of the Mikado's land. Another chapter of "Gloria's Romance," with Billie Burke, a Pathe Weekly; a fashion film and an animal comedy, complete the bill.

For the first time in Oakland, the new Reliance Theater showed "Jaffery," filmized from the novel by William J. Locke. It is in six well-acted, well-staged parts. The third episode of the Beatrice Fairfax series, a Bray cartoon-comedy and an International News Pictorial complete the program.

The Macdonough is still "crowding 'em in" with "A Night at the World's Fair" and "Twenty Minutes at Coffee Dan's." This is the second week of the spectacular musical show, which includes musical and dancing specialties galore.

Idora Park will show Oakland Art Smit's baby auto racers for the first time since their return from Japan. The little racers will stage some thrilling contests and several other special features are planned at the park. Bathing is still good.

"EXCUSE ME" MAKES HIT AT ORPHEUM

"Excuse Me" has proved a hit at the Oakland Orpheum, and one of the reasons for its marked success is the novel and unique scenic setting which the management has given Rupert Hughes' famous play. Two elaborate Pullman car interiors have been built on the Orpheum stage, each most realistic, and it is in these Pullman cars that all the action of "Excuse Me" takes place.

The vaudeville portion of the program is unusually snappy and delightful, including Jimmy Duffy and Mercedes Lorenzo in a musical skit called "Antiseptic Love." George W. Cooper and Chris Smith in a black-face comedy sketch called "The Bell Boy and the Porter"; The Three DuFour Boys, English dancers; Olga and Alado Paradofska, the little Melba and the boy pianist. Paramount Motion Pictures round out the bill.

CHAMPION WALKER IS PANTAGES HIT.

George Brown, champion walker of the world, is walking his way into theatrical fame at the Pantages this week—that is, local theatrical fame, for he is famed in every other city in which he has appeared. He was a stranger to Oakland—but now he is not, and half the erstwhile tired business men of Oakland are now to be seen walking the streets with chests out, emulating the long strides of the noted athlete.

George Brown and Willie Weston, a nephew of the famous Edward Payson Weston, champion of old men who walk, stage a neat act, a contest between the two, with the boy given a handicap. They walk on trampoline arrangements that record their distance and the contest becomes one of high excitement nightly at the Pantages.

This week's bill at the Pantages is exceptionally good anyhow. The act of Stanley and Ferrell, Italian impersonators, is a snappy bit of comedy, and Silber and North score a decided hit with their "Bashfulology" skit. The Haley Sisters (They are real sisters, too) appear in a clever singing act, with "Slim," the tall member of the family, offering comedy to help the good work along. De Hollis, the juggler, is in a class by himself. The act is easily the best juggling act in a long time.

The "Midnight Follies" is the big act of the week. It is a sparkling musical comedy, replete with laughs and with pretty girls and gay costumes to delight the eye. "The Yellow Menace," the new film, is a striking piece of motion picture work, full of excitement and gripping in interest. "The Secret of the Submarine" ends. Next week comes one of the greatest serials in the season, "The Crimson Stain." The story is to be printed in the Sunday TRIBUNE each week.

THEDA BARA STARRING IN "UNDER TWO FLAGS."

Much in contrast to her "Vampire" tactics in Fox films, Theda Bara plays the part of a brave "daughter of the regiment" in her most recent release, "Under Two Flags," now being shown at the Franklin. The play is one of Algerian army life and is filled with thrills and clever bits. Miss Bara plays the part of Cigarette, a young French girl, and Stuart Holmes, noted Fox villain, is cast as the Marquis de Chateauroye.

The photoplay has been dramatized from Ouida's famous novel, and Director J. Gordon Edwards has added several original and pleasing scenes to the story in the filming of it. The English and Algerian atmosphere is most realistic.

"Home," the other feature of the double bill, is an Ince production with three stars in the principal roles—Bessie Barriscale, Charlie Ray and Louise Glaum. The story by C. Gardner Sullivan, takes up the case of a family all too suddenly grown rich.

Having recently created an unusual personal success in the Lasky production of "The Cheat," in support of Fannie Ward, and in the stellar role of "Alien Souls," Sessue Hayakawa, the noted Japanese actor, is now playing in "The Honorable Friend" at T. & D.'s Oakland Photo Theater for the rest of this week.

Sessue Hayakawa is a splendid type of the modern educated Japanese. In Japan his parents had planned that he should become a naval officer in the service of the Mikado, but Hayakawa thought otherwise, and took up the study of drama. Coming to this country, he studied drama at the University of Chicago and then returned to his native country with Japanese translation of the English classics. He was the first Japanese actor to appear in Shakespearean productions in that country.

As the remainder of the program, Miss Billie Burke is presented in the seventeenth chapter of "Gloria's Romance," entitled "The Toll-Tale Envelope"; also a Patho News Weekly, an animal comedy featuring Napoleon and Sally, and the Florence Rose Fashions are presented.

WONDERFUL SIX-REEL FILM AT RELIANCE

"Jaffery" was presented at the new Reliance Theater. It is a wonderful production in six parts from William J. Locke's novel by the same name.

The cast is one of unusual strength. C. Aubrey Smith was selected by the author to play the part of Jaffery. He has had many years of experience on the legitimate stage. The Doria of the screen production is Eleanor Woodruff, while Florence Deshon plays Liosha.

On the same program there is the third episode of the Beatrice Fairfax series, a charming little story of the love of a messenger boy for a millionaire's daughter. He tells his story to Beatrice Fairfax and assists in the search for the girl when she is kidnaped. Grace Darling and Harry Fox play the leading roles.

A Bray cartoon and an International News Pictorial complete an interesting and varied program.

MACDONOUGH SHOW HIT; "CANARY COTTAGE" COMING

Sid Grauman's spectacular production, "A Night at the San Francisco World's Fair," and "20 Minutes at Coffee Dan's" continues to play to crowded houses at the Macdonough this week.

Scott Butterworth, who carries the main burden of comedy throughout the melange, succeeds well in his purpose, and his characterization of the "souse" is an excellent bit of artistry. The Aloha Twins, who are a feature of the performance, are a decided sensation.

"Canary Cottage," the new Morosco-Harris-Carroll comedy with music, which has just completed record-breaking runs in San Francisco and Los Angeles, will be seen at the Macdonough Theater, beginning Monday, September 11.

"Canary Cottage" was produced by Oliver Morosco in what is said to be the most brilliant manner he has ever adopted in an undertaking of this kind. It is a real successor to "So Long Letty." There is said to be a real plot that tells all about the tribulations of a young man who, engaged to a charming girl, gives a week-end party to which other charmers are bidden. And then his fiancee and her mother bob up at a most inopportune moment for the young man.

There are twenty musical numbers of a quality said to be honestly musicianly, and the book piquant, with just a dash of paprika. The principal characters are in the hands of such favorites as Trixie Friganza, Charles Ruggles and Herbert Corthell.

BABY RACERS TO BE FEATURE AT IDORA.

Saturday and Sunday are to be interesting days at Idora Park. For Saturday the management of the park has arranged a massed band concert of the 26 boys' bands of Oakland. The entire park is to be awhirl with the music of the many delightful bands of Oakland. Prof. Glenn H. Woods, the musical director of the Oakland schools, is to direct the bands.

The Boys' Band of the Oakland Technical High, which created so much favorable comment at the Exposition, is to play in the amphitheater at 2 p. m. The Lockwood Band and the Fremont High School Orchestra are to give a concert in the theater at 3:30.

This will be the first large concert ever given by the Oakland boys as a single unit. On Sunday the park is to have the Art Smith Baby Racers in a five and ten-mile race on the recently banked track at the park. This is their first appearance in Oakland and their second race in America. The cars were assembled in Japan and were first shown in this country at Tanforan race track last month. The drivers are to be the same as those who assembled the cars in Japan and drove them at Tanforan. The entire course is to be patroled by Boy Scouts.

Citizen Sailors Given Lye, Is Accusation

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Representative Siegel of New York has complained to Secretary Daniels that Dr. Ralph E. Oshrey and Samuel J. Ortman, of New York, two civilian sailors on the battleship Maine, when taken ill on the recent cruise, were given lye by mistake by the ship's medical officers. Siegel asked the department to investigate.

NON-SUPPORT ALLEGED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—Mary G. Lyerly was granted a divorce from Charles L. Lyerly, a bookkeeper, by Superior Judge Graham today after she had testified that he did not properly support her and compelled her to live in one small room.

WHY MAGNESIA SHOULD BE TAKEN AFTER EVERY MEAL

Best Possible Treatment for Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gastritis and Stomach Ulcers, Says New York Physician.

A flushed face may be the first noticeable symptom of indigestion, but disregard this warning and soon there is unmistakable pain for indigestion is a progressive ailment. At first the symptoms may be relieved by pepsin, bismuth or soda, but these things do not overcome the excessive acid in the stomach which is usually the underlying cause of the trouble, and consequently the acid accumulates and the occasional attack of indigestion becomes chronic dyspepsia. The dyspeptic is always particularly liable to gastritis and gastric ulcers in the stomach are only too often the forerunners of peritonitis, stomach cancers and death.

For this reason physicians place much importance upon keeping the stomach free from harmful acid and are continuously advising chronic dyspeptics as well as those who only suffer occasional attacks of indigestion to keep a little pure bisurated magnesia handy, and to take a teaspoonful in a little water after every meal. Practically any druggist can supply you with bisurated magnesia and all stomach sufferers are advised to get an ounce or so and give it a trial. Care should be taken to tell the druggist to give you magnesia in the bisurated form as other magnesia preparations, while valuable as laxatives and mouth washes, are not recommended for the correction of stomach acidity.—Advertisement.

Blue Bird Bureau

Saw Doris today. She was experimenting—just seeing how she could manage with the bright steel brace that clamps her little leg. Doris grinned happily when she saw us.

"I'm pretending that it's just a game, you know." The doctor told me that I was to make believe I liked to have this on my leg, and that after awhile I would forget that it was on there at all. I can play hop-scotch now, and the brace makes a funny noise when I jump, see?" And Doris hopped around while the brace clinked and clanked in a manner that got on our nerves, but Doris did not seem to mind. We took Doris some picture books, candy and quite a few things and told her about the mysterious Blue Bird that perched near her pillow when she was asleep and listened to her dreams, and then flew out the window to find friends for her.

"I think you're telling me a fairy story," observed Doris, whereupon we assured her that fairies really and truly existed if you only believe in them hard enough. After Doris had opened the box of candy she said she believed in fairies.

If you happen to know any crippled children or invalid children who would like some children's books and will write and tell us about them, we will try and see to it that they get some things that would make them happy.

Well, we seem to have friends far and near, large and small. The appeal for Doris seems to have touched the hearts of many. The following letter speaks for itself:

"Crystal Lake,
"Sept. 5, 1916.

"To the Blue Bird:—

"I am sending a dollar for the brace for little Doris and I hope she will grow strong and well. When my daddy was a little boy he needed a brace also and it made him well. I earned the money myself selling lemonade this summer to autos that pass on the state highway over the mountains. My little dog 'Robert' helped me sell it. He wore a lemonade sign tied around his neck.

"From a "Sierra Snow Bird."

Most any of us would buy lemonade from a little tot so willing to help others. Wouldn't we? We have the required sum for the brace but little Doris shall have the money anyway, as you know when we are ill there are a great many things which we need.

Not only the members of the Blue Bird Bureau are interested in this wonderful work, but all the employees of The TRIBUNE and their many friends. Yesterday several contributions came from them personally and they are all as deep in the interests of the work as are the members of the bureau.

Sometimes when we are unable to secure persons for various positions we refer to some of the employment agencies. The managers of these places have been exceptionally good about getting people for us and in the majority of cases we have found the applicants very reliable and steady.

ROTARY CLUB MEN TO VISIT FAIR

County Delegates to Invade the State Capital Alameda Day.

Preparations were completed today for the visit of the Oakland Rotary Club tomorrow at the Sacramento State Fair when, with the boosters from the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, they will journey in a special train to the state capital to view the splendors of California at the big show.

The trip will be one of the biggest "booster trips" in which the Rotarians have participated this year. Rotarians from other cities will also be present at the fair, the day to be an official "Rotary Day" in honor of the various organizations to visit the fair.

The Alameda county delegates will be entertained at the county exhibit, the day to be also known as "Alameda County Day" in their honor. The committees in charge of the Rotary Club trip, in which the bay cities are co-operating, are as follows:

San Francisco—L. H. Rodebaugh, chairman; W. B. Goode, L. A. Arnold, Joseph Theiben, Oscar M. Robinson, H. A. Nordquist and R. F. Hagelin.

Oakland—J. H. Brown, chairman; F. J. Bischoff, L. Marwedel, William Tooze and J. Lange.

Berkeley—F. L. Schneider, chairman, and T. H. Peckham.

San Jose—F. G. Canelo, chairman; Henry Hoff and James McHenry.

Tomorrow will be replete with excitement at the fair. One of the big features will be a sham battle, staged by the men of the Fifth Infantry, National Guard, recently returned from its station at the border. This will be staged in the infield at the grounds.

A sham battle was also held today by the guardsmen in honor of "Governor's Day." Today was also known as San Francisco Day and Preparedness Day. A million dollar stock parade, harness and running races and polo matches, a flight by Aviator Bouquel, with daylight fireworks, band concert and other features were staged. Tonight a fireworks display is scheduled, the horse show will open, and an illuminated flight by Bouquel is also programed.

CITIZENS TO PICK TOWN HALL SITE

Trustees to Entrust Selection of Property to Civic Committee.

HAYWARD, Sept. 7.—Selections of a site for a new town hall to be built here has been entrusted to a committee of representative citizens appointed by Mayor Arthur Manter at the regular meeting of the town board last night. With the community generally in favor of building a new hall immediately, it is probable a bond election to raise the necessary funds will be called as soon as the site is selected.

The committee is composed of John E. Geary, M. C. Petersen, George Grindell, M. G. Riggs, James Curdy, Jacob Harder Jr., J. D. Armstrong, M. J. Madison, Antone Flores and Town Attorney C. William White.

Attorney White recently reported that the terms of the deed by which the town plaza was given to Hayward by the Atherton estate, stipulated that no building should be constructed on the plaza and that therefore it could not be used as a site for the town hall. Since then the trustees have been seeking a centrally located site.

ARREST OF MAN VEILED IN MYSTERY

Willis E. Snider, Salt Lake Contractor, Held in Alameda on Instructions From Utah Police; Acclaims Innocence

Woman May Be Vital Link in Clearing Case Against the Prisoner; Declares Jealousy at Bottom of the Trouble

ALAMEDA, Sept. 7.—Mystery, with probably a woman holding the key to the situation, surrounds the arrest in this city today of Willis E. Snider, a Salt Lake contractor, who is held in the city prison awaiting the arrival of an officer from Salt Lake City to take him back to Utah to face an alleged felony charge. The Alameda police arrested Snider at 1912 Broadway, Alameda, on telegraphic instructions from Chief of Police White of Salt Lake City.

Snider declares he does not know why he was arrested, but he intimated this morning that "a jealous woman" was at the bottom of the trouble. He declared that no one has grounds for having him arrested.

Snider came to Alameda from Salt Lake City on the same train which carried Miss Lolita Wells of this city, a 22-year-old girl, who recently returned from a visit with Salt Lake friends. Miss Wells has known Snider, her relatives declare, for years and that when Miss Wells' mother sent for her to come home and learned that Snider was also coming west, she told her daughter to make the journey under the protection of Snider. Snider and Miss Wells arrived in Alameda two weeks ago and went to Miss Wells' home at 1912 Broadway. Snider has since been staying at the Wells residence.

Snider says that before he left Salt Lake City he wrote to his wife that he was going to California on a visit. He says now that after he has cleared up this matter he will leave Salt Lake City permanently and return to California.

Snider declares that he formerly owned a small interest in a Salt Lake contracting and building business, but has disposed of his interest. He said that he and his wife separated in 1908, but that no divorce proceedings had been instituted. He declared his wife had no financial claim on him and that he had no other financial or business troubles which could involve him with the law. He added that his wife had made several efforts to effect a reconciliation with him but that her overtures had been rejected.

According to Mrs. H. A. Boasberg, 1912 Broadway, mother of Miss Wells, the exact charge is unknown to both Snider and the girl. Miss Wells was not at home today when the interview took place.

Snider is a traveling agent for a large Salt Lake electrical engineering firm, besides owning property in the Utah city.

LABOR NOTES

E. C. Stephens has been chosen by the Typographical Union as Oakland delegate to the convention of the State Federation of Labor and the annual typographical conference, both of which meet in Eureka this year, as representative of his craft in this city.

Credentials to the Central Labor Council have been filed by the following: From Local No. 595, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, naming George E. Manes and F. E. Faris, vice E. H. Etzel and L. C. Mackey. From Milk Wagon Drivers' Union No. 302, naming Chas. Fyfe, vice G. Schneider.

Lazy Husbands Must Work
Women Urge Labor in Mine
Call Jail Leisure Resort

Joseph Bush, you are herewith sentenced to serve two years in the Tesla clay mine for failing to provide for your wife and children, the money so paid for your labors to be turned over to your family.

This judgment might be pronounced in an Alameda county court in the near future if the suggestion offered today by a delegation of women headed by Mrs. H. E. Rowell should be carried out by the Board of Supervisors. The board discussed ways and means of making effective the lazy husband law.

Or, the culprit may be sentenced to arm himself with a scythe and grub-ax and hie himself to the Ocean View Road district and there cut weeds until the roadside crop has disappeared and that section of Supervisor Foss' domain is "clean as a whistle."

If the weed crop should not prove sufficiently bountiful, more may be planted, it was suggested.

CITE TYPICAL CASE.

Something is going to be done with the lazy husbands in Alameda county. A particular case was recited to the members of the board which would undoubtedly prove to be a prize winner in a contest on the subject of lazy husbands. Women from East Oakland related the following circumstances:

Husband in jail for the last six weeks.

Wife in poor health with seven children to support.

Only $12 a month charity allowance.

Members of the board assured the delegation that steps will be taken immediately to remedy that case, the matter being referred to Supervisor Heyer with power to act.

It was pointed out that while the family may be taken care of by the taxpayers, the lazy husband remains in jail, eats regularly and enjoys a life of leisure. Said one of the delegates:

We would like to see that man work. His wife feels that he should be made to assist in supporting his children. She is willing to work, but she cannot keep at it six days a week and care for her seven children. She is breaking down under the strain.

WORK IN CLAY MINE.

So the whole question reverted to the lazy husbands act, which involved explanations of the statutes and the geographical conditions in the mountainous sections of Alameda county where the old Tesla mine lies in disuse and dilapidation.

That a camp be installed at the clay mine, which, it was stated, could be purchased by the county for $5000 or even $3500, was the scheme propounded.

Supervisor D. J. Murphy, whose district contains the old properties of the defunct California Safe Deposit & Trust Company, in which more than half a million dollars were sunk by J. Dalziel Brown and his associates, stated that the old operating company could not make anything out of the coal mine or the clay pit. He said it would hardly be advisable for the county to invest in the project, even for the satisfaction of putting lazy husbands to work.

It was finally agreed that the question will be taken up again next Thursday and disposed of in one way or another.

PRESENTS NEW PROBLEM.

Mrs. Hilma Caroline Bjork, a widow, 1523 Twenty-fourth street, presented a new problem to the board when she read a lengthy exposition setting forth that after several months' endeavor she had learned that she is not eligible to receive half-orphan state aid for her three small children. The reason is that she is "unfortunate" enough to own realty valued at more than $1500. She stated that there was not enough income from the property to pay her expenses and keep her and the children.

Mrs. Bjork announced her intention of going before the legislature and asking for a change in the present widows and orphans' aid act, in behalf of herself and "other widows who find themselves in the same predicament."

"Open Forum" to Be Inaugurated Tomorrow

The activities of the Oakland Center of the California Civic League—the "open forum" conducted by several hundred of the women of the city—will be inaugurated for the season tomorrow afternoon at a meeting to be held at Hotel Oakland. Mrs. A. E. Carter will preside and there will be addresses by several able speakers.

It has been planned to have Governor Hiram Johnson address the gathering, but the disaster at the Sacramento State Fair of last Saturday has made it necessary for him to remain at the Capitol, where Friday has been named "Governor's Day." The speaker who will take the Governor's place has not been announced, but the talks are scheduled for 3 o'clock, following a 2:30 o'clock business session.

There is special interest in the center meeting, as this organization was spoken of by many of the clergymen of the city last Sunday from their pulpits as one of the most potent factors for "civic righteousness."

Absence of Girl Alarms Relatives

Relatives and friends of sixteen-year-old Margaret Freitas of East Oakland are greatly alarmed for her safety following the receipt of the news from Los Angeles that the girl had mysteriously disappeared from the steamer Governor when the vessel reached San Pedro from the north on Monday.

Charles and Alfred Freitas, brothers of the girl, were awaiting her arrival and did not see her disembark. Several passengers on the Governor declare that they saw the girl meet a woman who was apparently waiting for her at the foot of the gangplank. They say that Miss Freitas was heavily veiled and that she immediately drove away with the woman in a taxicab. The police are working on the case.

Taylor May Have Lease Cancelled

James P. Taylor, a fuel merchant, who complained to the City Council that he had been unable to get coal shipments by water for a year because of the European war, and who wants the city to cancel his lease to the Franklin street wharf, may have the cancellation, if the Council will agree to it. This was the gist of an opinion on the matter, filed by Deputy City Attorney John J. Earle today.

Taylor rented the wharf in 1914 for a three-year period at a monthly rental of $100. He says that the shortage of ships caused by the war has rendered the wharf useless to him, and wants the city to cancel the lease. The Council referred the matter to Commissioner Harry Anderson for a recommendation.

On recommendation of Commissioner W. J. Baccus, the Council today sustained the protest of property owners on Fifty-fourth avenue against the improvement of that street. It is understood that the work will be done within a year, when new proceedings will be started. Eighty per cent of the property owners on the street protested the proposed work.

Lifesaver to Give Scoutmasters Lecture

Preparatory to training the Scoutmasters in life saving and resuscitation from drowning, Scout Executive H. R. Wilson has secured Wilbert E. Longfellow of the American Red Cross Life-Saving Corps to give instruction and examination to the Scoutmasters of Oakland and Berkeley tonight at the Piedmont Baths.

A Scoutmasters' Life Saving Corps will then be formed among these men, an examining committee will be appointed to take charge of examinations for new applicants and the life saving will have become an organized pursuit in Oakland. Auxiliary corps will be formed among the boys and life saving tests given at the Piedmont pool.

MARINE OFFICE OF S. P. MOVED HERE

Oakland Wins Location of Important Department of Ferry System.

Oakland now has the marine headquarters of the Southern Pacific Company. At the Peralta street shipyards a new main office has been established for the department, and all marine business of the railroad is now handled in Oakland instead of as was formely the case in San Francisco. San Francisco now has a branch office of the marine department, operated by two men, while the entire main force is in the new Oakland office.

Elaborate offices have been fitted up for the new department at the shipyards. The office is in charge of Captain William Chisholm, for many years an Oakland resident, and for many years a master for the Pacific Mail. Captain Chisholm succeeds Captain J. McKenzie, who died several months ago in this city.

The marine department has charge of all ferry boats of the service, all launches, and all ships in any way connected with the activities of the railroad. It handles millions of dollars worth of business yearly, and has the absolute responsibility for service on the bay.

An interesting craft has been added to the flotilla of launches used by the railroad, the former pleasure yacht of George W. McNear, whose firm was recently blacklisted by the English government, having been purchased by the road, for use as a ferry from the shipyards to the foot of Broadway, to carry workmen to and from work. The launch, known as the "San Pablo," was one of the noted pleasure boats of the bay when owned by the millionaire grain merchant.

OLD NOTES BRING FRIENDS IN COURT

Widow of Senator Nixon Seeks to Have Paper Honored by Ramsey Estate.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—Friends of years' standing, Mrs. Kate I. Nixon, widow of United States Senator George S. Nixon, and Mrs. Elsie H. Ramsey, widow of Harry Ramsey, who died at his palatial Piedmont home on August 7, 1915, entered the law courts as opponents today, when Mrs. Nixon brought suit against Mrs. Ramsey for $13,475 in San Francisco.

The suit is not brought against Mrs. Ramsey as an individual, but as executrix of the estate of the late Harry Ramsey, and is for the recovery of sums represented in promissory notes signed by Ramsey and found among the effects of Senator Nixon after his death.

Nixon, who was senator from Nevada, and Ramsey became warm personal friends in Nevada years ago, and Nixon, it is said, held three notes of Ramsey, one for $825, executed in November, 1909; one for $10,400, executed in December of the same year, and one for $2250, dated July, 1913. It is alleged that M. D. Fairchild, who wound up the Nixon estate, wrote to Ramsey and asked payments on the notes after Senator Nixon died, and Ramsey replied, it is alleged, that he hoped to pay them some time, but that he was unable to do so just then.

Two Villa Bandits Executed in Mexico

CHIHUAHUA, Mex., Sept. 7.—Julio Valle and J. Prieto, Villa bandits, have been captured near Santa Ysabel, Chihuahua, and executed by government troops, according to despatches received today from General Elizion. Villa still is believed to be in the Santa Clara canyon, although an unofficial report said he had reached Laguna, about sixty miles north of here.

Despatches from General Samuel Santos in Torreon say that Rafael Castro, a Villa general, has approached him with a view to surrendering in return for amnesty. Castro denies, according to the despatch, that he was implicated in the massacre of eighteen Americans and other foreigners at Santa Ysabel in January last.

Key to Strong Box on Long Trip
Holds Secret of Stocks and Bonds

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—William J. Hynes, public administrator, has a key.

If somebody will please tell him what lock it belongs to, it will be a great help, and also he would like to know what has become of something like $30,000 worth of stocks and bonds of the Alexander Hay estate.

The key belongs to a safety deposit box here, where some of the missing papers may be hidden. But just where this box is nobody seems to know. After Hay's death in Monrovia memoranda was found telling of his ownership of the stocks and bonds. These cannot be located. Also two keys were found. One fitted a box in the San Francisco Savings Union, where a bundle of stocks was found. The other key is making the rounds of all companies in the state for identification.

SANTA FE NOT TO OBEY 8-HOUR LAW

President Ripley Issues Statement of Railroad's Position.

TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 7.—E. P. Ripley, president of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railway, declared in a formal statement last night that the Santa Fe does not intend to comply with the Adamson eight-hour law, recently enacted by Congress to avert a threatened railroad strike, until ordered to do so by the United States Supreme Court.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—If the announcement of President Ripley of the Santa Fe railroad that his road would fight the Adamson eight-hour bill created any excitement in Pacific Coast railroad circles, it was not apparent on the surface today.

The Southern Pacific has come to no decision regarding the matter, according to William R. Scott, vice-president and general manager of that road.

Samuel Veatch, general chairman of the Order of Railway Conductors, said:

"Until we know what the railroads are going to do we can do nothing. So far as we know, no general and concerted plan exists among the roads to ignore the Adamson law. I expect a complete report today from A. B. Garretson, head of our brotherhood, together with a copy of the Adamson law and its interpretation by the brotherhoods."

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 7.—The Great Northern will scrupulously obey the provisions of the Adamson eight-hour bill, it was announced today. This announcement, coming in the face of the Santa Fe announcement that it would obey none of the provisions of the bill, seemed to substantiate a recent rumor in railroad circles here. This was that either the Great Northern or the Santa Fe would be chosen to flagrantly violate the bill, to force government action that would bring a test in courts. The Santa Fe was chosen, it was said, because of the strength of its legal department.

RECORD BREAKING CONGRESS NEAR END

Appropriations for Session Will Approximate $1,947,259,048 Next Year.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Congress expects to quit work late tonight or tomorrow after a nine months session that in many ways broke legislative records.

The greatest record-smashing was in appropriations. The Congress just closed authorized approximately $1,711,383,682.64 appropriations for the next fiscal year and $226,875,366 in contracts. Under the latter head were appropriations of $506,000 in the urgent deficiency act, $55,000 in the legislative, executive and judicial bill, $2,287,950 for rivers and harbors, $5,107,000 carried in the civil sundry act and $205,089,416 in the naval act.

The total in appropriations and contracts authorized, according to estimates, brings the grand total up to $1,947,259,048.64.

The final legislative measures put through were the eight-hour bill to avert the nation-wide railroad strike, and the revenue law, by which the government is to raise $205,000,000 and which provides for the tariff commission. In this measure is also contained the provisions by which the President is given power drastically to retaliate against the British black list.

School Nurses Visit Homes of Children

Nurses in the school department have examined 3731 school children, visited 325 homes, been in school clinics 125 hours, aided in 27 operations, treated 566 children at clinics, and 240 in the schools during the twenty-five school days up to September 1, according to a report submitted today by Dr. N. K. Foster, school health director.

Dr. Foster also reports that 155 children visited his office in that time and were examined for physical defects and infectious diseases. In addition, 116 have been examined as applicants for teaching positions in the Oakland schools. Dr. Foster has made 68 visits to schools during that period, examined 54 pupils at the school, talked to ten classes and visited 21 homes.

The health director reports the general health of Oakland school children to be of a high standard.

Sixteen Indicted for Torturing Official

LIMA, Ohio, Sept. 7.—Sixteen alleged members of the mob which stormed the Allen county jail here last week, in an attempt to lynch Charles Daniels, a negro, and who tortured Sheriff Ebey until he revealed where the prisoner was held, were indicted today. The list includes several businessmen. Thirteen of the sixteen have been arrested and are in the county jail under guard of 100 policemen and deputy sheriffs. It is expected that 100 indictments in all will be returned.

MRS. MAUPIN IS ACCUSED OF MURDER

Issuance of Warrant Comes at Conclusion of Week's Work in Which Sleuths Have Been Completely Baffled by Case

Widow of Slain Man Will Be Arraigned in Police Court Tomorrow; Woman Continues to Relate Same Story

A charge of murder was lodged against Mrs. Rilla Maupin today. She will be taken into court to defend herself against the accusation of having shot and killed her husband, William H. Maupin, a drayman, 882 Isabella street, as he slept last Thursday night. She will be arraigned before Police Judge Mortimer Smith tomorrow morning, when the date of her preliminary examination will be set.

The issuance of the murder warrant is the culmination of a week's work on the part of the police, in which they were baffled at every turn in their attempts to break down the strange tale the accused woman tells concerning the manner in which her husband came to his death. Today's action is the result of the verdict of the coroner's jury at the inquest last night, which read: "Mrs. Maupin either killed her husband or is shielding the persons who committed the crime, and we recommend that the woman be held until a further investigation has been made."

WARRANT SWORN OUT.

Prosecuting Attorney Ezra Decoto was present at the inquest and listened to the testimony adduced. Mrs. Maupin did not take the stand, objection being made by her attorney, George Macdonough. Her son, Colonel R. Montgomery, was a witness. It was Decoto who issued the complaint against the woman today, the warrant being sworn to by L. F. Agnew, captain of inspectors.

Already has the Maupin murder case found a place in the Oakland police files as a "mystery case." The police admit that, while they feel certain that Mrs. Maupin is guilty of the crime, they have been baffled on every side in their attempts to lay the crime at her door. In no essential detail have the inspectors who have worked on the case been able to break down the woman's remarkable story.

Mrs. Maupin has admitted to the police that she and her husband often quarreled. At 10:30 o'clock on Thursday night of last week she says two men, one a short man who appeared to be a Hawaiian or a Japanese, and the other a tall, blonde, of handsome appearance, awakened her from sleep by pounding on the rear door of the Isabella street house. She opened the door and the two men stepped inside.

GRAPPLED WITH HER.

Immediately, she declares, one of them, the shorter of the two, grappled with her, forced her into the bathroom and tied her to a drain pipe. The other, she says, made his way to the room in which her husband was asleep and shot him through the head. The men then released her, she says, forced her to make coffee for them, rebound her, and sat in the kitchen until 2 o'clock Friday morning consuming the luncheon she had been forced to prepare for them.

At 2 o'clock she says they left the house, after cutting the telephone wires. She telephoned her son, Montgomery, from the home of a neighbor and he notified the police. Inspectors R. V. McSorley and Joseph H. Robinson were detailed on the case. They were unable to find evidence of a struggle in the house. They found that the telephone had been disconnected through the cutting of one of the small wires on the receiver. When Mrs. Maupin was taken into custody she said that in July of last year a handsome woman called on her and told her that Maupin was her lover and that he had "gotten her in trouble." In November, she says, a man called on her, told her he was the husband of the first caller and told her that he intended to kill Maupin.

The police have been unable to break down this strange tale in any of its essential particulars. They have been unable to find the revolver with which Maupin was shot. He is believed to have been killed with his own weapon, a 38-caliber revolver, which he kept under his pillow when he slept. This is missing.

The CONFESSIONS of ROXANE

By FRANCES WALTEN.

I insisted upon being tucked away in a large chair on the porch, where I spent almost every afternoon with Billy Bent.

For more than two weeks after my ankle was injured I remained in the house, an almost helpless cripple. My suspicion that a bone had been broken was correct, but the fracture, although painful, was not a serious one, and the doctor who set it promised that if I proved a good patient and obeyed his instructions I would be able to walk in a fortnight or two weeks. I did not relish the idea of being helpless any longer than I could help, so I adhered rigidly to his advice in all respects possible.

During those days I insisted upon being tucked away in a large chair on the porch, and there I spent almost every afternoon with Billy Bent in another nongside. He had called the day after I was injured, but I could not see him. The next day he called again.

"Glad to see you are at least able to be out in this glorious air," he exclaimed. "It is really one of the finest days of the year."

"It is indeed," I returned, with almost equal enthusiasm.

"And the foot?" he inquired, glancing down at my slippered member. "Are there any bones not broken?"

"I forget how many bones make up one's foot," I returned. "I think when I studied physiology I learned that there was an appalling number, but further than that my recollection does not go. At any rate, all except one are unbroken."

"And that one," he said, "was sufficient to cause you much pain. It was very fortunate that I happened along when I did. I should never have forgiven myself if I had not taken a walk that afternoon. Indeed, I think I shall take a walk every afternoon in the hope that some day I shall find another beautiful lady in distress."

"Why Billy Bent!" I exclaimed, "how gallant you have become. I can remember when you thought all petticoats were things to be avoided."

"Yes, but that was the unwisdom of you. Manhood knows better. Lucky is he who is not avoided by women. From youth to maturity one's ideas can change completely."

"Indeed they can," I replied. "I used to think that you and I would be as close friends all our lives as we once were. How wrong I was in my idea. The other day I would hardly have known you had I met you face to face. Yet for ten years we were together almost constantly during our waking hours."

"Those were delightful days," he mused. "I can remember what an excellent little pal you were. How unselfish! How brave! How considerate! I do not think you ever had anything that you did not want to share it with me, and sometimes a lump come in my throat when I think how careful you were to avoid giving me pain."

"Why should I give you pain?"

"I mean because of my poverty. It does not matter how kind-hearted children are, there are moments when most of them are cruel. Some of the best friends that I had as a boy occasionally wounded me deeply because of their thoughtlessness. Perhaps I was supersentive regarding my own condition in life, but even this oversensitiveness of mine was never wounded in any way by you, and I can remember many instances where, when my feelings were hurt, you were my comforter."

He spoke musingly, his face, half turned from mine, looking out across the lawn.

"I do not remember that I was especially kind to you, but I do remember that you were my very dear friend, and there was no greater joy in my life than to have you, as my playmate in those happy days."

"You were good and kind and thoughtful," he insisted. "I loved you for it then and ever since I have been grateful to you. I do not know much about women, but a matured friendship similar to the childhood friendship which existed between us must be one of the most delightful experiences of life. I would like for such a friendship to exist between us now."

There was something in his deep voice which thrilled me and made me painfully aawre that I was not a free woman.

During our conversation neither William nor I broached the subject of my marriage. I was very grateful to him for not referring to it. He undoubtedly knew that I was married, for in a town as small as ours every one knows when every one else dies or marries or has a baby. I thought at times that I detected a certain constraint in his manner, which may have been due to his realization that he was talking to another man's wife, but otherwise he gave no indication that he knew I was other than a perfectly marriageable young woman entertaining a perfectly marriageable young man.

And throughout the many conversations which we subsequently had he was just as skillful in avoiding any reference to Arthur. In this I was deeply grateful to him, for I was in no mood to be reminded of my husband. I was not consciously trying to forget him, but I had turned myself adrift and was floating with the stream. I did not have any idea and I did not care where the current carried me. I had a subtle feeling that in the end all would be well. Just what the end would be I did not even try to imagine. My frame of mind was much that of a fatalist. I seemed to have resigned myself to the mercy of circumstance. Whatever the future brought forth as my portion I felt that I would be content with it.

TRADE EXCURSION PLANS COMPLETED

Advertising Trip to the Central Valleys Will Cement Friendship.

Detailed plans were completed today for the San Joaquin valley trade excursion of September 19 and 20, when members of the manufacturers' and advertising bureaus of the Chamber of Commerce, and the trade extension committee will journey to Modesto, Stockton, Fresno and other valley points in a special train, to cement the friendship of Oakland's business men with the merchants of these cities.

The excursion will be the largest ever held by the chamber. The features of the trip were outlined at a point meeting of the committees, when plans for the chartering of the train was completed. The advertising bureau members will attend in the uniforms they wore as delegates to the Spokane convention. The party will take with it the Oakland Boys' Club Band. The boys will play in every town and city where a stop is made. Public entertainments will be tendered the visitors in many of the towns.

The first night will be spent in Fresno, and Modesto and the Stanislaus Exposition will be visited on the first day. The second day will be marked by visits to Stockton, Patterson, Los Banos and Turlock. A dinner will be held in Stockton in the evening. Several novel "stunts" are also planned. W. H. Seely will be the "Constable" as at the Chico excursion, and Walter Baker will travel as the "Chinese Interpreter."

Commerce Chamber to Open Bridge Campaign

Monday will see the start of the new work of the membership council of the Chamber of Commerce. Plans for a big membership campaign, for active cooperation in the campaign for bridges and other public betterment moves, will be discussed at the first meeting of the year, to take place Monday noon in the main dining room of the Hotel Oakland.

The meeting will follow a luncheon and will open the fall season for the council. O. E. Hotle will speak on the campaign for a bay bridge and will make important announcements. The membership committees will render reports on their work.

Vaughan to Begin His Prison Term

Compton Vaughan, who is under sentence of twelve years in San Quentin for killing George Barnett at Sunol last July, will commence serving his sentence at once, today having withdrawn his petition for a writ of probable cause which would have enabled him to remain in the county jail pending an appeal of his case. He will perfect the appeal from prison. Through the procedure he will not lose time on his sentence should his appeal be lost.

Salmon Industry Has Local Warehouse

Another new industry which will mean considerable to the City of Oakland is evidenced by lease which is entered into by Captain P. M. Nelson, who has for years been engaged in the Alaska salmon trade. Captain Nelson has leased a large warehouse from the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway Company, located on their First and Alice streets property, and will in the future make this warehouse his headquarters for distribution of his salmon and for the outfitting of his vessels. Last week the schooner C. A. Thayer discharged 2100 barrels of salmon in the warehouse, and the schooner Roy Somers arrived last night and will begin discharging about the same tonnage today.

Although for years there has been an immense volume of this salmon distributed from San Francisco, Captain Nelson has the honor of being the first one to recognize the advantages of Oakland as a distributing point for this class of business.

In addition to employment of labor necessary for the handling of various cargoes, the new venture will mean considerable to the merchants of Oakland in that they will have first call on furnishing supplies required in outfitting the vessels for their trip north each spring.

REPRISALS MAY BE NECESSARY.

Unfortunately the flagrant disregard of neutral rights by the governments of the belligerent nations of Europe renders it advisable to untie the hands of the United States Government so that it may use retaliatory measures if necessary. Congress has therefore taken commendable action in authorizing the government to answer the detestable "blacklist" and interference with United States mails and legitimate commerce by denying trading facilities in American ports to the ships and nationals of offending nations.

If the power bestowed on the President by Congress is fully exercised the "blacklist" will be abandoned and unlawful interference with mails will cease; if not with a frank admission of error in attempting to disregard the rights of non-combatant nations, then from necessity. If merchant vessels which refuse to carry goods of American firms to neutral ports of call, entitled to the service under the law of nations, are forbidden to leave port, and if the masters and owners of such offending vessels are brought to trial and punished for violation of American laws, the instruments of the blacklist will soon be rendered inactive.

Certainly Great Britain and France do not intend that the situation shall reach the point where extreme retaliatory measures will be America's only choice. These governments would find such conduct unpopular among their own people, for the French and English press already has voiced wide disapproval of the blacklist measures. The boycott has no moral support and the people want no quarrel with American business interests, much less with the American people.

Reprisals during the continuance of peaceful relations between governments are to be deeply regretted. They will be undertaken with little enthusiasm by the United States, but if they are absolutely necessary to prevent the wanton and hurtful disregard of our international rights they will, we believe, be supported with unanimity and determination. Perhaps a more forceful and energetic presentation of our case through diplomatic channels would have long ago settled the mails and blacklist controversies, but since there was failure in this respect a legislative enactment by the representatives of the people to meet the emergency is timely.

BLOW AT THE TARIFF COMMISSION

Doubtless guided by its purpose to make the new tariff commission as ineffective as possible, the Senate, when it reached the consideration of this feature of the revenue bill, voted down Senator Sterling's amendment giving the commission authority to investigate the productive costs of manufactured products in this country and abroad. The proposal was turned down by a vigorous vote.

Mr. Wilson has justified his belated endorsement of the Republican idea of a tariff commission on the ground that world conditions have changed and he "would be a coward if he did not change his mind accordingly." He claims to recognize that domestic industries may require protection against foreign imports and confesses that a commission would be the proper instrument to collect and furnish Congress with information as to the manufactures and other products requiring protection and the nature and extent of protection necessary for each article.

For the framing of an equitable and just protective tariff schedule a knowledge of the productive cost of domestic goods and the productive cost, plus transportation cost, of foreign-made goods is absolutely essential. A tariff framed without this knowledge will necessarily be based on theory, speculation, prejudice and favoritism. If the productive costs of the products of foreign trade in all countries were accurately known, nine-tenths of the work of a tariff commission would be accomplished; in fact, there would be no need for a commission. Yet Congress has refused to empower the commission to make any inquiries along this line. Thus the Senate shows its contempt for the President's suggestion about changed world conditions.

This disregard is partly justified; the urgency of a non-partisan, scientific commission has not been intensified by recent changes in world conditions. Reasons were just as ample when President Taft created such a commission, and when President Wilson repudiated and destroyed that commission, as they are today. But Mr. Wilson's love for pleasantly-worded excuses does not justify the Senate in ignoring the fact that it was and is vital to the framing of an expert, non-partisan tariff to have a knowledge of productive costs of imports. That fact cannot be obscured by the omissions of a legislative measure enacted for campaign purposes.

OTHER NATIONS PREPARING.

Other nations of the world are making concerted arrangements for trade campaigns after the war and productive and all other pre-market costs are receiving careful advance consideration. In Europe the governments base much of their hope for quick recuperation from the trade losses of the war on the certainty of productive costs lower than prevailed before the war started. How much lower they will be is mere speculation, but the American manufacturer knows they were low enough originally.

A striking example of this preparation may be observed in the recent action of the Japanese government. Competitors of the Japanese in foreign markets had hoped that the new factory law, shortening the hours of labor, would go into effect September 1. But the government not only refused to alter existing conditions; but passed a law providing that the hours of labor shall not be changed for a period of ten years. This means that during the next decade the fourteen-hour day will prevail. This is not all. Factory employees in Japan include 3000 children under 12 years of age, 31,000 girls and 9000 boys between 12 and 14 years of age, 91,000 girls and 9000 boys between 14 and 16. They will all work fourteen hours a day.

A tariff investigating board that does not take such conditions as these into consideration will be of little service. They are conditions that will be approximated in Europe when peace is restored, for Europe will have to compete with Japan as a world trader. The fact that Congress has denied such essential powers to the commission, reduced the salaries of the members so that only men who are not much use for anything else will be attracted to it, and appropriated money to maintain it only for a year means, of course, that the tariff commission idea of Mr. Wilson is nothing more nor less than political "bunk."

Esperanto was invented and launched as an international language a generation ago, and great things were promised for and expected of it in the direction of simplifying the confusion of tongues. It was a rival of Volapuk, which was also expected to bridge the chasm of strange tongues. Neither has made much popular headway, and it is rather surprising to read, in connection with a notice of a banquet of the State Society in San Francisco Sunday night, that there are 25,000,000 Esperantists in the world. This is on the authority of Dr. H. W. Yeamans, president of Esperanto Association of North America. With so large a number interested in such a subject, there may be surprise that the study has obtained no foothold in the public schools.

Berkeley has a sorority which took first prize for the pulchritude of its members and which now ranks first in scholarship at the State university. But this is not more remarkable than the fact that the majority of scholarship prizes at Harvard were awarded to athletes.

The bishops of the Protestant Episcopal church are wasting time in debating the question of leaving the word "obey" out of the marriage ritual. Brides have beaten them to it.

CIVILIANS LEARNING DISCIPLINE.

(From the Portland Oregonian.)

The number of civilians who have taken advantage this summer of the opportunity offered by the United States to get an inkling of what life in the navy is like is said to approximate 3000. Thirty-eight states are represented. The number is not large, and if there were a sudden call to man the navy to its full strength it would be less than a mere handful in proportion, for the brief period of training afforded by no means made sailors of the men, to say nothing of gunners or machinists.

The difference between a civilian volunteer and a trained fighting man is illustrated by a recent incident of the cruise in the Pacific near San Diego. One of the guns was manned by civilians, who, after a brief course of instruction, were required to go through the motions of getting up the ammunition, loading and firing. By diligent work they succeeded in firing a shot in just five minutes. The point of the incident is that trained men are expected to fire a shot every twenty seconds—three shots a minute—and to keep up the pace under battle conditions.

The volunteers are not blamable for their lack of skill; they deserve praise for the spirit that took them there to learn. Nevertheless, to be valuable men in our navy in time of need, it will be necessary for them to be no less than fifteen times as efficient as they were on that particular occasion, and getting ammunition up to the guns is only one of many things they will be required to know about.

No doubt similar situations will be developed in the army training camps on shore, except that the need of highly specialized technical skill required by the complicated machinery of a modern warship will be replaced by needs of a different kind. Nevertheless, modern warfare is an intensely scientific industry. Both on sea and on land the greenhorn is worse than wasted, for he not only sacrifices himself needlessly, but he is a positive menace to others.

Despite the seeming futility of these very brief periods of instruction, they are valuable—not because of the actual skill acquired by the participants; but by reason of the spirit of discipline which they impart. In our highly individualistic life, it is quite possible that we have lost our sense of the ultimate interdependence of men. A story that is being told in the Middle West illustrates this. A company of volunteers from Minnesota were set to pulling weeds. "You didn't volunteer for this kind of duty?" suggested a visitor to the camp, with tentative inflection. "Still," said the rookie, "it's a part of the game, and, anyhow, we're getting muscle by it."

The aviator who brought down the invading Zep in the suburbs of London has already received $20,000. But there will not be a general conclusion that such a reward is easy money.

"The tender rich" is a new one. It was invented by President Wilbur of Stanford, and when applied to a class that seeks to wrap its young in cotton batting during the schooling process is not at all inapt.

The other twenty-six Oaklands of the land have each and severally said nay to the proposition to beat it and leave the name solely to us, so the sad necessity exists of regarding the incident as closed.

We come across this in the Goldfield Tribune: "An Illinois Congressman wants an investigation of the bakers' trust in Chicago, intimating at the same time that the rivited bread cinch reveals the artistic handiwork of the beef trust." Rivited—does that apply to the trust or the bread?

This explains all about it. From the Redding Searchlight: "You may have wondered why this is such a peaceful nation, while Germany is so strong for war. Here is one answer: In Germany all the boys want to become field marshals, while in America the boys want to become Marshall Fields."

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

With El Centro, Brawley, Calexico and other places in the valley putting their lots into early vegetables, orchards, melons, etc., the cattle, hog, sheep and turkey industry is naturally drifting to the north end land, and no finer body of land exists for this purpose than the 100,000 acres surrounding Callpatria, from the Salton Sea, to the High Line Canal, and from West Moreland to Niland.—Holtville Tribune.

A valuable mare belonging to L. A. Henneuse was shot and killed last Tuesday night on the Frank Burns ranch, near the petroleum mines. It is thought that deer hunters mistook the horse for a deer while hunting at night. The horse was shot twice.—Santa Cruz Sentinel.

There is no prospect of a settlement of the fishermen's strike. The fishermen demand 6 cents a pound for salmon. The buyers who collect the fish receive 1 cent commission. This would mean that the packers would have to pay 5 cents, which they declare is 1 cent above what the fish is worth.—Vallejo Times.

President Wilson, may hastily prevent a railroad strike, but unless the settlement is square for all concerned he would better have let the problem alone. The crisis under such conditions will return.—Hanford Sentinel.

NEW YORK'S UNDERTAKINGS.

The completion of the great Canadian Pacific double-track tunnel in the Rocky mountains has revived discussion about such works. The longest railroad tunnel in the world is the Simplon, twelve and a half miles, but none of these railroad works compares with the series of tunnels which make up the new aqueduct to bring water from the Catskills to New York and Brooklyn, which is hundreds of feet below the surface at its approaches to the Hudson river and East river and which has cost ten times as much as any railroad tunnel in existence. New Yorkers do not appreciate the fact that the greatest engineering feats yet accomplished are to be seen in and around this city and they have cost far more than the Panama canal. Within three years the public works now under construction will be finished and then New York may learn that it is the engineering marvel of the age with its tall buildings, aqueducts, subways, elevated railroads and its incomparable group of bridges across the East river of which the Brooklyn bridge is the oldest and most beautiful. —New York Commercial.

"Why, don't you know," she gently said,
"It's the last chap pleases me?"

STILL TRUE.

When one considers
The times abroad,
The many horrors
With which they're stored,
The fears of travel
Upon the sea
Where U-boat perils
So frequent be——

The constant danger
Of railroad strikes,
The street infesting
Of motor bikes,
This epidemic
That's children's foe,
And threatens kiddies
Where'er they go——

When one considers,
Again I say,
These ways of spend

Forced is conclusion
When one would roam,

Is home, sweet home.

WHAT HE HAS DONE.

The President's friends assert that he kept the country out of war, but they cannot hide the fact that his party has subjected the country to a burdensome "war tax" to cover up the tariff deficit, or that the administration is now urging Congress to authorize a $130,000,000 Mexican war bond issue.—Springfield Union.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

The synagogue of the First Hebrew Congregation of this city was rededicated today with imposing services. The structure was recently removed to Twelfth and and Castro streets from Thirteenth and Clay streets.

The Danish Baptists of Fruitvale dedicated their new church on Twenty-fifth avenue near East Fourteenth street this afternoon.

Rev. Anna Shaw, eloquent divine and exponent of suffrage addressed a large audience of men at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium today.

Despite efforts to keep the event a secret it became known today that Miss Daisy Belle Sharpe and Ed A. Howard will be married at high noon Monday in the First Congregational church.

The family of C. C. Clay of Fruitvale are still abroad.

BEGINNING TO RETREAT.

The Democratic concession that the vote in Maine will be close sounds suspiciously like an admission that it will be a Democratic defeat.—Baltimore American.

SAD AND COSTLY LESSON.

One of the great lessons of the war is that neutral nations have no rights which belligerent nations are bound to respect if the neutral nations cannot enforce them by arms.—Baltimore American.

FIVE CENT LOAF DOOMED

Master Bakers of Nation In Favor of Elimination

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Elimination of 5-cent bread for the 10-cent loaf was considered certain today as members of the executive committee of the National Association of Master Bakers met to take action on the proposition.

The increased cost of wheat, sugar, yeast and labor was given as the reason for the meeting. Three ways to meet these difficulties have been proposed—reduction of the size of the 5-cent loaf, increase of the price to either 6 or 7 cents, or baking a 10-cent loaf only. The bakers favor the last way. They say it takes just as much time and labor to make a 5-cent loaf as to make a 10-cent loaf. The 10-cent loaf then virtually would be equal to two 5-cent loaves of the present size.

Bakers point out as the chief reason for the necessity of immediate action the fact that flour has jumped from $4.50 to $7.25 a barrel within five weeks. Before this advance the average profit for the wholesale baker on a 5-cent loaf was three-tenths of a cent a loaf. Now, they say, there will be a loss of a cent on each loaf.

Pearl Is Found in Gizzard of Chicken

HELENA, Sept. 7.—A year ago Mrs. Esinolo Kleinschmidt, then living in Missoula, Mont., lost from an ear-ring a pearl said to be worth $1000. When she left Missoula she sold a flock of chickens, keeping one old rooster. She slew the bird and the pearl was found in his gizzard.

Dried Peach Prices Will Be Increased

FRESNO, Cal., Sept. 7.—Following a meeting today of directors of the California Peach Growers, the marketing organization, it was announced that the prices of dried peaches to the trade had been increased. The advance ranges from a quarter to three-quarters of a cent.

Grand Council to Gather at Santa Cruz

The Grand Council of the Catholic Ladies' Aid Society will convene next Tuesday at Santa Maria Del-Mar, Santa Cruz. High mass will open the council, with the Rev. P. Stattiny of Capitola as celebrant. The objects of the society are relief of the poor, irrespective of creed or nationality, and the spiritual and physical help extended toward suffering humanity. That the Ladies' Aid Society is practical in its charity may be seen in its management of St. Margaret's Club in San Francisco, a home for self-supporting girls.

Officers of the society consist of Mrs. J. G. Kearney, grand president; Mrs. J. H. Mellon, first grand vice-president; Mrs. E. Shea, second grand vice-president; Mrs. J. P. Gallagher, third grand vice-president; Mrs. M. J. Smith, grand secretary and treasurer, and Mrs. J. P. Golden, grand guard.

WOMAN DEFRAUDED.

Mrs. Jessie Blair, 526 Sixteenth street, told the police today that she had been mulcted out of $17 last night by a stranger who engaged a room from her. The stranger, she says, gave her a $20 bill in payment for $2 room rent. After she had given him the $18 change and he had departed she says she learned he had substituted the $20 note for one of $1 denomination.

NATIVES HOLD SOCIAL.

HAYWARD, Sept. 7.—Installation of officers and a social were held by Hayward parlor No. 122, Native Daughters of the Golden West in Native Sons' hall last night. Mrs. Annette Powell was installing officer. The ceremony was followed by a banquet.

SHIP BILL SIGNED BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—President Wilson today signed the shipping bill. It authorizes government organization of a corporation or corporations with capitalization of not more than $50,000,000 to buy or lease ships and put them in trade if they cannot be leased for operation to private capital.

One of the most bitterly contested legislative struggles of the Wilson administration ended when the Senate on August 18 passed the government shipping bill. In the last Congress the measure precipitated a Democratic revolt and a filibuster which forced postponement of many important bills but revised so as to minimize the government operation feature, the measure finally received unanimous Democratic special and solid Republican opposition.

Creation of a government shipping board to acquire and operate ships for rehabilitation of the American merchant marine is provided in the bill. The money is to be raised by the sale of Panama canal bonds.

Amendments agreed to upon the last day the bill was before the Senate include one which would authorize the president to seek adjustment of foreign discrimination against American shipping through diplomatic negotiations and to take retaliatory action if such negotiations fail. Another authorizes the treasury department to withhold clearance from masters of vessels who deliberately refuse to accept freight from American citizens without satisfactory reasons.

As passed by the Senate the bill previously having been approved by the House, the measure would create a shipping board of five commissioners. The board would be authorized, either directly or indirectly through a corporation or corporations to be organized, to build, purchase, lease or charter vessels suitable for use in ocean commerce.

Limitations upon these powers would prohibit acquisition of any vessel at the time engaged in foreign or domestic commerce of the United States unless it is to be withdrawn from such commerce by the owner without intention to return thereto within a reasonable time. The purchase of any vessel which is under registry or flag of a foreign country engaged in war; or acquisition of any vessel which would not be available for ocean commerce without unreasonable alterations.

The bill further authorizes the shipping board to organize one or more corporations with a total capital stock not exceeding $50,000,000, the government, through the board, to subscribe for a majority of the stock. A radical change in American merchant marine policy is provided in a Senate amendment permitting government acquired vessels, whether foreign or domestic built, to enter the coastwise trade of the United States.

MILLION IN ESTATE OF WATKINSON

Joseph Henry Thomas Watkinson, early president of the Peoples Water Company, pioneer cattleman, owner of extensive realty holdings in Contra Costa county and financier, left an estate valued at $1,161,183.39, it was discovered today in an inventory and appraisement which was filed in the Superior Court, where his estate is being probated. The entire estate was bequeathed to his widow, Mrs. Henrietta Pierce Watkinson of 355 Twenty-eighth street.

Watkinson died at his home here on April 30, at the age of 66 years. He came to California from England when a young man and engaged in the cattle industry, later acquiring extensive land holdings in Contra Costa county which increased vastly in value with the growth of the city of Richmond, where his estate owns large subdivided tracts. He also owned property in San Mateo, San Joaquin and Kern counties as well as his holdings in Alameda county.

Watkinson was director in many large corporations, among them the Bowers Rubber Works of San Francisco and Pittsburg, Contra Costa county, the Crown-Willamette Paper Company, of which his brother-in-law, William Pierce Johnson of San Francisco, is president, the H. & W. Pierce Company, the Southwestern Cattle Company and the California Mother Lode Mining Company. He had large holdings in all of these concerns.

Besides the realty holdings the estate consists of Oakland bank stock, San Francisco bank stock and oil stocks. The bulk of the estate consists of land holdings.

Besides his widow, Watkinson left two sisters, Mrs. Walter J. Heeley and Mrs. Adah Barclay, who live in England, and a brother, Frodsham Watkinson of New Zealand.

In his will, which was drawn in San Francisco in May, 1912, the testator provided that in the event of his wife's death the property should be divided between his sisters and brother. He was not survived by children. It was also provided that in event his wife failed to act as executrix his estate should be administered by William Pierce Johnson and William F. Bowers, his business associates.

The estate also holds large notes of different corporations and from individuals.

Insurance Tangle Grows

Expert to Meet Brokers

Opposing factions will be pitted against each other tonight in a controversy that has been started over Oakland's business and factory insurance. R. E. LoRentz, insurance expert, will appear before the Oakland Chamber of Commerce manufacturers' committee to explain his assertion that half of the business property of Oakland is insured with policies that are invalid. A number of local brokers will be present to combat his assertions, and hot words are expected as a result of a dispute that has been brewing between the insurance men ever since LoRentz issued his warnig.

LoRentz declares that, through misunderstanding of the new insurance forms, local brokers have in ignorance permitted their clients to take out policies on factories and business buildings that are not worth the paper they are written on. His assertions are not directed against any company, but against the present methods of making policies. He declares that the trouble is due, not to dishonesty, but to misunderstanding.

Local insurance agents denied LoRentz's assertion. Grave anxiety was aroused among the factory men. Tonight LoRentz will meet the Oakland brokers and factory men together, and using the actual policies covering local factories, will point out what he considers invalidating features in the documents. Several attorneys will be present to hear his arguments.

John W. Phillips will preside at the meeting. Several insurance agents have been invited to the session at the request of LoRentz.

Society

Society on both sides of the bay will turn out in most festive array tonight for the brilliant ice carnival to be given at the Techau Ice Palace for the benefit of St. Mary's Help Hospital free clinic. There seems to be no doubt that this is to be quite the smartest charity affair witnessed thus early in the season.

There are to be any number of dinner parties of peninsula dwellers and San Franciscans, and many others will drift in to watch the skating pageant that is to open with a resplendent march on the ice with gorgeously gotten up little pages following the queen, Miss Eldorado Ashburn. Queens on skates in the past have not been general in San Francisco, but artificial ice has given a new sensation, and there will be a delightfully fantastic drama to follow that is reminiscent of Hans Anderson's Fairy Tales.

Among those who are to entertain box parties are Mrs. Eleanor Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Martin, Mr. Richard Tobin and Mrs. Mary Tobin, Commander and Mrs. Frank Pinckney Helm and many others.

Another affair that took many society people across the bay was the reception and private view opening the exhibition of decorative paintings and designs and theater model by Herman Rosse, whose decoration hung in the Oakland galleries for many months. This exhibition, as well as the reception, was under the patronage of his excellency Chevalier von Rappold, minister of the Netherlands; Consul-General H. A. van Coenen Torchiana of the Netherlands, San Francisco; Baron van Eck, president of the Holland-American Chamber of Commerce of the Pacific Coast, and others.

This function was held at the Palace of Fine Arts under the auspices of the San Francisco Art Association, and those who received cards were principally men and women prominent socially or in the world of art.

Mr. Rosse, though a good Californian, was born in Europe, where he studied first under Dutch masters and later supplemented his studies with travels in Italy, Germany and France, finally spending some time at the South Kensington school. Though he has decorations in the Peace Palace at The Hague, he is principally known here for his work in the Netherlands buildings at the Exposition.

California society is much interested in the announcement that Miss Harriet Alexander of New York, a popular visitor at San Mateo last summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Alexander, is to marry Winthrop Aldrich, a son of the late United States Senator Aldrich.

Miss Alexander is one of three sister, the others being Miss Janetta and Miss Mary Alexander, and she has numerous cousins across the bay—Miss Ethel, Miss Mary and Miss Helen Crocker and Mrs. Malcolm Whitman and Charles Templeton Crocker. William H. Crocker is her uncle. Her fiance is a Harvard man of the 1907 class, and a member of various exclusive eastern country clubs.

✡ ✡ ✡

The long-waited-for announcement that Miss Lella Ewing, daughter of J. Cal Ewing, is engaged to Wallace O'Connor was made yesterday, and a coterie of the bride-elect's friends in the young set are preparing to fete her. For some time an attachment has been suspected.

The Ewings have been spending the entire summer at their ranch in Shasta county at Castella, but Miss Ewing has been a house guest for the past fortnight of Mrs. Neal Harris in Piedmont. Her fiance is a civil engineer belonging to a well-known San Francisco family.

✡ ✡ ✡

The wedding of Miss Clara Baross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baross of this city, and Major Charles J. Mund of the California National Guard Coast Artillery, took place with ceremony last night at the Palace Hotel in the presence of three hundred or more guests.

Chaplain James Ossewaarde, U. S. A., of Alcatraz Island, officiated and Colonel H. G. Mathewson, U. S. A., served as best man. The brilliant group of other attendants of the army and national guard included Captain W. P. Platt, U. S. A.; Lieutenant B. W. Campbell, Captain Allen G. Wright, Captain L. R. Cofer, Captain C. D. Y. Ostrom, Major R. E. Mittelstadt, Captain G. W. Bauer and Lieutenant John A. McGee.

Mrs. Harry Welhe will be a hostess for Miss Ruth Tisdale on the afternoon of September 16, when she will entertain at bridge.

Last week-end at the house party given by Mr. and Mrs. Chester Jamison for Miss Tisdale and Mr. Parker, those who spent the interval in Mill Valley at the Jamison place included Mr. and Mrs. Welhe, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Durney, Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Van Sicklen, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Field, Mrs. William Bacon and Carl Shattuck.

✡ ✡ ✡

One of the gay affairs that brought together two score of the Alameda young set was the dinner dance given last night by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Durney as a compliment to Miss Ruth Tisdale and her fiance, John Parker, who are being so extensively feted on their way to the altar.

Instead of a more formal arrangement, the guests were treated to the informality of a cabaret-like arrangement, and were seated in groups of four at little tables scattered through the reception rooms and the sun verandas, where Chinese lanterns dangled in the screening vines. Dahlias in varying shades of rose and pink happily carried out the decorative scheme.

Those who enjoyed the festivity were: Mr. and Mrs. Albert Durney, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Welhe, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Durney, Mr. and Mrs. James Hjul, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Jamison, Mr. and Mrs. Chaffee Hall, Dr. and Mrs. Channing Hall, Dr. and Mrs. Leroy Briggs, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Alan B. Field, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hiller, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Guerin, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Weinmann, Mr. and Mrs. William Bacon, Mr. and Mrs.—Irvin Clough, Mr. and Mrs. James Eschlen, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Coogan, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Power (Beverly Nasen), Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jenkin, Miss Ruth Tisdale, Miss Marguerite Durney, Miss Edith White, Miss Clara Franck, Julius Landsberger, John Parker, William Weinmann, Azro Lewis, Leslie Bates and Lieutenant Edward Bates, U. S. A.

Several former London dwellers graced the informal at home presided over yesterday by Madame Antonio de Grassi in Berkeley—Miss Amy Holman, Mrs. Robert Harnden and Miss Frances Lewis—all of whom the De Grassis knew abroad during their stay there. Miss Lewis came up from Pasadena a short time ago to be the guest of Miss Marion Huntington in San Francisco, but is spending a few days this week as Madame de Grassi's house guest. She is the daughter of Mrs. Lewis Chase of London, who made such an impression when she was out here last winter lecturing on her experiences in chaperoning young girls from private schools in foreign countries to their homes. Mrs. Chase's stay inspired any amount of entertaining, as she was both distinguished of appearance and a clever speaker and writer.

Tomorrow evening, Signor and Madame de Grassi will entertain ten guests at a dinner in honor of Charles Keeler, the poet, who is being so madly feted during his visit to his former home. The poet is turning out a genuine lion, not only here but wherever he goes. In Newport, for instance, he was a great success at one of Mrs. O. P. Belmont's soirees.

The following afternoon Madame de Grassi plans to give a party for a dozen youngsters—all under four—and their mothers in her lovely garden.

Mrs. Harry Knowles is leaving shortly for the East, where she will place her son at school in Exeter. She will be gone for several weeks, visiting in New York before her return for the late fall galeties.

Among others who are leaving this month for the East are Mrs. Willard Williamson and Miss Lorna Williamson, whose departure is set for September 12, and Miss Aileen Edoff. Miss Edoff goes soon to New York to visit her sister, Mrs. George Porter Baldwin, and the two plan to spend most of the winter visiting in several of the more important Eastern cities.

✡ ✡ ✡

One hundred or more guests have been bidden by Miss Alice Rowell and Miss Gladys Meyer to an elaborate reception given tomorrow afternoon at the Rowell home in College avenue, Berkeley, in honor of Miss Alice Freuler and Miss Rosalind Meyer. Miss Alice Freuler is to become the bride of Homer Norris of Tacoma on the 29th of this month, and Miss Meyer, who is a sister of Miss Gladys Meyer, is the fiancee of Walter Duane, San Francisco attorney.

A coterie of charming girls of the younger set who will assist the two hostesses is composed of Miss Florence Woolsey, Miss Helen Funke, Miss Alice Crellin, Miss Olive Freuler and Miss Gladys Hamilton.

Several out-of-town guests are expected, among them Mrs. Robert Shorrock and Miss Mabel Poole of Sacramento and Miss Lou Rice of Fresno.

✡ ✡ ✡

In honor of Miss Marjorie Nickerson and her fiance, Harold Flint Danforth, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Walls will entertain a group of friends tomorrow evening at the dinner dance to be given at Hotel Shattuck. Those who will make up the party are:

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Maris, Mrs. Belle Danforth, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Walls, Miss Marjorie Nickerson and Harold Danforth. Usually the dinner dances are given at the Shattuck on first Thursdays each month, but on account of the freshman rally, this one has been held over a day. It has been planned to make this one complimentary to a number of college men stopping at the hotel, and all the decorations are to be in blue and gold for the festivity. Several large parties are to be given that evening, one of them by Mrs. N. V. Nelson in honor of her niece, Miss Anna Harrington, who is visiting relatives here.

In honor of Lieutenant and Mrs. Thorpe, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Robson will preside over a large party also.

Mrs. Mary F. Childs has returned to her apartment at Hotel Oakland after a tour of the United States, during which she devoted much time to Glacier Park, where so many well-known east bay vacation travelers went this summer.

✡ ✡ ✡

Miss Betty Vent entertained a dozen guests this afternoon at an informal shower party for Miss Marjorie Nickerson at her home in Berkeley. Those who enjoyed the affair included: Mrs. Chesley John Roberts, Miss Marjorie Nickerson, Mrs. Jack Schaeffer, Mrs. Neil Cornwall, Miss Adele Scott, Mrs. Joe Beamer, Mrs. Roy Hand, Mrs. William Blasingame, Mrs. Roy Wilford, Miss Ruth Taylor, Miss Ruth Smith and Miss Ruth Robinson.

✡ ✡ ✡

After a summer spent in a delightful camp up the Russian river, Mr. and Mrs. J. Walter Scott and their daughter, Miss Adele Scott, have opened their house in town. Miss Scott, whose enagement was announced last spring, will be one of the feted bride-elects of the season.

✡ ✡ ✡

In a bower of pink asters and greenery, Miss Ida Wittschen and Robert Gordon Sproule plighted their troth last evening in the presence of twenty-five of their immediate relatives and close friends assembled at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Antonietta Wittschen, in West street. Rev. Father Andrew Carroll read the marriage service, and the only attendants were Miss Emma Wittschen, a sister of the bride, and Allan Sproule, brother of the groom.

Carrying out a blue-and-pink color scheme, the maid of honor's bouquet was of pink roses and her gown of blue taffeta quaintly fashioned. The bride was attractive in a gown of white satin constructed with a paneled skirt bordered on either side by triple puffs of satin and silver lace, and a long straight bodice embellished with silver lace and Georgette crepe. A conventional veil of white tulle caught in a little cap about the coiffure and a bridal bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley completed her costume.

After a wedding supper, the young people left for a honeymoon in Northern California. They will return about the first of next month to make their future home in Berkeley.

Live Quail and Deer Form Hayward Fete

HAYWARD, Sept. 7.—Quail, pheasants, deer and ducks form the Hayward State Game Farm exhibit now being shown at different livestock displays throughout the state. The local exhibit is now at the Sacramento state fair and has excited much favorable comment. It escaped the fire which destroyed the rest of the Alameda county exhibits, being housed in the livestock section some distance away from the fire. A portable duck pond measuring twelve by forty-eight feet containing many specimens of ducks raised on the Hayward game farm will be exhibited at the San Jose poultry and pet stock show next month.

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash the poisons and toxins from system before putting more food into stomach.

Says inside-bathing makes anyone look and feel clean, sweet and refreshed.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.

For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons, gases and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing. Men and women who are accustomed to wake up with a dull, aching head or have furred tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, sallow complexion, others who have bilious attacks, acid stomach or constipation are assured of pronounced improvement in both health and appearance shortly.—Advertisement.

Castle Bedtime Story

Uncle Wiggily Longears, the nice old rabbit gentleman, was walking along the edge of his farm, near the woods, one morning, when, as he came near a little house, made of leaves, where lived Johnnie and Billie Bushytail, the two little squirrel boys, he heard them talking between themselves.

"Well, I'm going to be the captain," said Billie. "I said it first, so I'm going to be it."

"No, I want to be captain and wave my sword," exclaimed Johnnie.

"I tell you I said it first!" chattered Billie, "and it's just like playing marbles; whoever says 'first shot' has it. Besides, I've got this sword. I made it out of a piece of wood, and captains always have a sword. So I'm going to be captain."

"Well, of course, if playing soldier is like shooting marbles, that's different," went on Johnnie. "So you can be the captain and I'll be the general, and we'll have a war."

"Fine!" cried Uncle Wiggily Longears, peeking over the tops of some bushes, behind which he hid as the squirrel boys were talking. "So you're going to have a war, eh? On whom are you going to make war? The mosquitoes?"

"No, I guess we'll go fight the hickory nuts," chattered Johnnie. "They are not quite ripe yet, but if green apples are good, green hickory nuts ought to be better, I think."

"So do I," laughed Billie, his brother. "Come on, now, we'll go to the hickory-nut war, General Johnnie."

"All right, Captain Billie," answered the other little squirrel boy. "Do you want to come, Uncle Wiggily?"

"Why, yes, I guess I might come along as a sort of war correspondent," spoke the bunny uncle. "I'll make believe I'm a reporter, and I'll write a piece for the paper about the hickorynut war and battles. I only hope none of you generals or captains get shot with talcum powder and hickory-nut bullets."

"We won't," laughed the two squirrel boys, and they started off. Before they had gone far, though, a voice called to them:

"Ho, Billie! Ho, Johnnie! I want you to go to the store with me. I need some sugar and bread. Come, little squirrel boys, run to the store for mother." And in the doorway of the leafy house stood Mrs. Bushytail, the squirrel lady.

"Oh, I don't want to go to the store," chattered Billie in a whining sort of voice.

"I don't myself," said his brother. "I'm not going, either, until we come back from playing soldier."

"All right," whispered Billie. "We'll take the money and act just as if we were going to the store for her, but we won't go until we've had our fun." And he looked around to see if Uncle Wiggily had heard, but the bunny uncle seemed to be busy tying his ears in a knot, so they would be out of the way when war started.

"Are you going to the store for me?" asked Mrs. Bushytail again. "Here is the money for the sugar and bread, boys."

"Oh, all right!" said Johnnie, and putting the money in his pocket away he and Billy scampered to the hickory-nut war, Uncle Wiggily following.

Pretty soon General Johnnie and Captain Billie came to the place where some hickory-nut trees grew. The nuts on them were only little as yet, like unripe apples, but the squirrel boys thought they would taste good anyhow so they surrounded a tree and cried to it, just as soldiers cry:

"Surrender! Surrender! You are our prisoner! This is war, and we're fighting you! Surrender! Halt! Who goes there?" they cried just like real soldiers.

Then the hickory-nut tree sort of shivered, though, of course, it may have been only the wind blowing it. And the leaves seemed to whistle:

"Oh, please let me go!"

But Billie and Johnnie only cried the louder:

"Surrender! Surrender! Give up! We've caught you! Charge on the enemy!"

Then Captain Billie, with his wooden sword, and General Johnnie, with a gun made from a stick, charged on the tree-enemy and threw big stones at it to make it shake more, and jiggle down the green nuts, which squirrel boys like as well as real boys like green apples.

Some nuts rattled down, and the squirrel chaps were gathering them up in their pockets when, all of a sudden, Uncle Wiggily, who was standing a little way off from the tree, called:

"Look out, Billie—Johnnie. Run away quickly! Run! Run!

"In a minute," answered Billie.

"Just as soon as I pick a few more nuts," was what Johnnie said.

"No, come here at once! Quickly!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "If you don't come—"

Just then there was a crash, and down fell a branch of the tree. It hit Billie on his paw and Johnnie on his tail, hurting them.

"Oh, dear!" chattered Billie. "I didn't know the tree branch was going to fall."

"I didn't either," said Johnnie, looking at his brother.

"I saw the branch falling," said the bunny uncle. "If you had come to me as soon as I called you would not have been hurt. A good soldier always minds at once. He doesn't say 'wait a minute,'" spoke the bunny chap.

Billie looked at Johnnie and Johnnie looked at Billie. Then they both said together:

"I guess we'd better obey mother's orders, and go to the store right away." And they did, and though they were a little late, they got the sugar and bread home almost in time.

Marathon Athletes, Attention

Here Is the Programe for Race

Final Instructions Are Announced

The Fourth Annual Tribune Marathon is at hand.

It is only a matter of hours until Saturday morning when Chief of Police Petersen will fire the starter's gun that will send scores of California's best off in the six and a quarter mile run.

At this late hour, all that the runners are looking for is their last instructions. All have finished their training, and all are ready. Just a word from the officials of the race should be heeded by all who are to take part in the big run.

All athletes should report at the dressing rooms in the Piedmont Baths (not in Piedmont Pavilion as was the case last year) at 9 o'clock.

Before entering the dressing rooms, all runners will receive their numbers from Clerk of the Course Otto Rittler.

None but runners will be admitted to the dressing rooms. There are 250 boys who have business in the quarters, and if outsiders were allowed to invade the rooms, it would crowd matters.

As soon as a runner receives his number he should change clothes. Do not loiter around the dressing rooms; get on your running suit without waste of time.

If you are an unattached runner, and have not been examined, see one of the physicians in charge right away. The examination is free, and it is absolutely necessary that all unattached runners go through this examination.

All runners will have to be prepared for the race by 9:45, when they will be called by Referee Herbert Hauser for the start of the race. Between 9:45 and 10:00 the runners will be at the start, receiving their final instructions, and being placed for the start.

Athletes are cautioned that all times set by the committee are exact, and the race will wait for none. Be ready and on time.

Runners must remember that the rules of the race are for their benefit, and have no other purpose than the protection of the athletes who are participating.

Read over the following rules, and be sure that you understand every word.

All runners must keep to the outlined course. Failure to observe this rule means disqualification. Boy Scouts will direct runners and Tribune guide signs will mark the way.

No bicyclists will be allowed to follow the runners. Chief of Police Petersen has instructed the Tribune Marathon detail to enforce this rule to the letter.

Pace makers will not be allowed on the course. Their presence will be quickly detected by the checkers and they will be removed by the police.

Contestants on crossing the finishing line must not return and recross under penalty of disqualification.

Contestants shall wear their numbers on their chests. This is to facilitate the work of the checkers.

If you should lose your number be sure to give your name to the judges as you cross the finish line.

Every contestant must report to Clerk of the Course Otto Rittler immediately on arrival at the dressing quarters. Get your number before changing clothes, not after.

Protests of any kind must be filed with Referee Otto Rittler immediately after the race.

A. A. U. cross country rules will govern the race.

No contestant can claim more than one prize.

A runner winning two prizes shall take his choice.

Failure to be checked by the clerk of the course will lead to disqualification

All unattached runners must undergo physical examination by official examiners, Dr. John R. Purves, Dr. F. R. Mugler and Dr. W. R. Hume. Runners will be examined at the dressing quarters on the morning of the race.

WOLVERTON'S SEALS ARE DEFEATED IN PITCHERS' BATTLE

Sothoron and Brown Hook Up in North and Beavers Win by 1 to 0 Score.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 7. — The Beavers defeated San Francisco by a score of 1 to 0 yesterday afternoon in as brilliant a pitching duel as was ever witnessed here. Allen Sothoron and Curly Brown were the opposing pitchers, the former barely outpitching the Seal tosser. Five hits were secured off Sothoron and six off Brown. Allen struck out six men and Brown two, but Sothoron issued two walks with nary a one chalked up against Brown.

Nixon's two bagger and Jack Roche's single in the fifth inning tallied the only run of the game for the Beavers. Roche and Nixon each secured two hits. "Chuck" Ward and Ivan Howard pulled two double plays, both times stopping an intended Seal rally. The score:

AMATEUR BASEBALL

PARK SHOE CO. 7, BIJOU THEATER 1.

FIFTEEN-YEAR-OLD BOY IS SURPRISE AT GOLF TOURNEY

R. T. Jones of Atlanta Defeats Pennsylvania Champion at "Phillie" Meet.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7. — R. T. Jones, Jr., the 15-year-old boy of Atlanta, is the surprise and sensation of the national amateur golf championship which is being played at the Merion Cricket Club. The Southern youngster worked his way into the third round by defeating Frank W. Dyer, the Pennsylvania state champion, 4 up and 2 to play.

In order to win, Young Jones had to overcome a lead of four holes, gained in the first six played. He did this by coming home in 34 strokes, despite a six on the 18th and easy par four hole. This brand of golf squared the match and in the afternoon Jones won handily, being 65 for 16 holes when the match ended.

Oswald Kirkby, the metropolitan and New Jersey champion, went down before Gardiner White, of Flushing, by a two up score.

White played premier golf to win from Kirkby. He was 73 for the first 18 to 75 for Kirkby and this left him one up at the turn.

The championship is working up to the best finish in years with all the big players left to fight it out in the remaining rounds.

Reading the Green

Both factions played flawless ball and rang down the final curtain in one hour and twenty minutes. A real game.

The Indians rallied and made two runs but the effort fell short of being enough to win from the White Sox.

Out of five times up he got four singles and a double.

The Saints won, 5 to 0, thus climbing into the first division.

Utschig and Berger of Oakland helped beat their team with boots.

Gisleason, Orr, Brief, Quinlan and Rath of the winners figured in a whole flock of classy double play combinations, sweeping the board clean repeatedly.

Yesterday's big league hero was Ty Cobb. The Detroit wonder, after a scratch hit to short, scored the winning run for the Tigers over St. Louis by stealing second and third and making the plate through an infield hit.

The Red Sox failed to gain by their victory over the Athletics for the Tigers kept right at their heels.

It was the hundredth defeat of the season for Connie Mack's collegians.

The Giants and Brooklyn had a great day. The Brooklyn Club took a trimming in the first game of a double-header and then came back and scored a pair of runs for Rube Marquard, enough for victory.

Del Howard is running into some hard luck with the Oaks and he now has a regular sized hospital list to take care of. Roxy Middleton will be out of the game for three or maybe four days as a result of an operation he underwent yesterday for an abscess. Sammy Beer dislocated a vertebrae in his neck on Sunday and will not be ready until next week, while Rube Gardner has been forced to stick on the bench through a touch of rheumatism.

The Angel players had seats in the grandstand at Recreation Park yesterday and watched the Oaks and Bees in combat. The members of Chance's club state that the Portland team is a much strengthened outfit and figures to cause quite a bit of trouble for the other clubs before the season closes. The acquisition of Evans, Ivan Howard and Kenny Williams has helped McCredie's team considerably.

Rudy Gallio has already reported to the Seals and was on the San Francisco club's bench yesterday, reports from the North state. Kallio is the same chap released by the Oaks this spring. He will probably pitch on Sunday or even Saturday for the Seals.

ALL-AMERICA SOCCER TEAM WINS

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 7. — The All-American soccer team last night defeated a team from the Almenna Idrottsklubben and Djurgarden Club, two goals to one. It was the last game to be played and the Americans will sail for home on the Oscar II September 8.

The Americans scored both goals in the first half, their first goal coming after a penalty kick and the second on fine passing. The Swedish team scored ten minutes before the end of the last half.

WILLIE MEEHAN WINS FROM HENDRICKS IN ONE-SIDED BATTLE

Jimmy Dundee Outclasses Graham; Alveris, With Broken Hand, Draws.

Sailor Henry Hendricks, San Francisco's Swede white hope, is probably adjusting arnica poultices today. Hendricks is placing them at the same spot where Willie Meehan, "Frisco Fat Boy" heavyweight, threw 1000 or more left and right hand punches at the West Oakland club last night. The game sailor boy, coming on all the time, took enough punches last evening to sink any ordinary battleship. Meehan crashed blow after blow into his midriff and for a while it appeared as if Hendricks would be unable to weather the storm. But by gameness that few boxers have yet displayed in a local ring, Hendricks stuck it out to the finish and was trying just as hard at the end as he was at the start.

Outside of Hendricks' gameness in staying the limit, there was nothing to the battle. Meehan landed nearly every punch and buffeted and jolted the sailor boy all around the ring. It was a one-sided contest and that's all that can be said about it. The preliminary events were all corkers, which made up for the uninteresting main event. Jimmy West, West Oakland battler, was the surprise of the evening, beating Billy Alveris in three out of four rounds, which entitled him to the decision. The judges differed, however, and the affair was called a draw. Nevertheless, West won and he had a good lead at the end of the bout.

Jimmy entered the ring as a substitute, taking the place of Freddie Wharton, San Francisco lightweight, who fought at the Association club in San Francisco last night instead of at the West Oakland pavilion, where he had agreed to show. West, not in very good condition, outfought and even outboxed Alveris in the first three rounds and had a lead at the end of each one. West was tired in the fourth and Alveris fought well here. After the bout, Pete Nolan, Alveris' manager, stated that his boy had a bad right hand which prevented him from using it.

Jimmy Dundee, coast bantamweight champ, beat Freddie Graham, a near lightweight, easily and was awarded the decision. Willie Webb beat George Lawrence to a decision, while George Benson, was given the decision over George Pappas.

Willie St. Clair and Sammy Pelsinger fought an interesting draw, while Sammy Goodie outfought Joe Ketchell and Spider Webb, a bantamweight, fought George Brandon to a draw. Jack Brown, Joe Cabral and W. J. Eyre acted as judges, Louis Bernstein was the timer and Bob Shand refereed.

MORAN'S PHILLIES AND BOSTON BRAVES DO BATTLE TODAY

Phillies Move Into First Place, While Giants Split With Dodgers.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—"Crucial series" is with us again today in both major leagues. Pat Moran's Phillies, who vaulted into the uppermost niche in the Tener circuit, were to stage a double-header with the Braves, their hated rivals. In the American League the Tigers and Browns continue their feud while the battered Red Sox take another joust with Connie Mack's collegians.

The Phillies and Braves accomplished the difficult feat of moving while standing still yesterday, for rain kept them from each other's throats while the Giants were dividing a double bill with Brooklyn. The Phillies are leading by two points over the Dodgers, who are in second place, and the Braves are just one game in the rear.

The bitter struggle in the American League with Detroit the villain resembles a finish fight more each day. The Ty Cobbs succeeded in putting a crimp in Fielder Jones' highest ambitions for the season when they banked yesterday's conflict but they must at it again today. The Red Sox, minus the able services of Bill Carrigan, has only the Athletics with whom to argue. Bill was invited to take a three-day lay-off for his run-in with Silk O'Loughlin.

The White Sox, too, must hold up under the strain for they have Cleveland to dispute in their day's work. Detroit now languishes a game and a half behind the champions and the White Sox are pounding along the same distance back of Detroit.

MINNEAPOLIS BOAT IS CUP WINNER

DETROIT, Sept. 7. — The Lake George Cup, emblematic of the one-mile power boat championship of North America, was won yesterday afternoon by Miss Minneapolis of the Minneapolis Power Boat Association. Miss Detroit of Detroit was the only other starter, mishaps causing the withdrawal of Peter Pan VII of the Columbia Yacht Club, N. Y. and Hawkeye of the Lake George Club.

Miss Minneapolis' average speed in six one-mile trials was 53.11 nautical or 61.08 statute miles an hour and her fastest nautical mile was in one minute 4 6-10 seconds, which she made in her first mile, running with the current.

Miss Detroit averaged 45.45 nautical or 52.27 statute miles an hour and her fastest nautical mile was one minute 16 6-10 seconds, made with the current in her third mile.

"POP" GEERS SCORES ANOTHER VICTORY

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 7. — Ed "Pop" Geers, driving Napoleon Direct, scored an easy victory over Roan Hal and Single G. in the two-minute pace, the feature event on the Grand Circuit card today, winning three heats in slow time. Roan Hal, by great drives to the finish, beat out Single G. for second place.

The first extra heat event of the afternoon came when the 2:12 class was called. Princess Wilkes, driven by Bill Crozier, won the first heat. Walter Cox, with Young Todd, won the next three. Brownie Watts took the 2:20 trot for three-year-olds, going to the second heat in 2:12 1-4.

ALONZO STAGG TO AID "TAD" JONES

FAMOUS WALKER TO WATCH TRIBUNE MARATHON

GEORGE BROWN, famous walking champion, who is now appearing at the Pantages Theater, who will be an interested spectator at The TRIBUNE Marathon at Lake Merritt Saturday.

The big TRIBUNE Marathon around Lake Merritt next Saturday will be watched by one of the most famous athletes of his day for a possible successor to the title of champion walker of the world. George Brown, present champion, and the man who is holder of the record as the walker who can beat any one on the globe in a heel-and-toe contest, is seeking young men to train, according to his own system. He will pick out the runners he believes offer the most promise, and to these he will offer his services. He wants to put the sport of walking on the map in America, as it is in Europe. He expects to find the youth who will some day master him, for it is his hope that some day, when he loses the championship, as all champions must, it will be to one of his pupils.

Brown will attend the meet as the guest of The TRIBUNE, and will look over every runner in the contest. How he will pick his men is known only to himself. He will announce his choice two days after the meet. He will offer the men he chooses the opportunity of traveling with him and learning from him the manly art of long-distance fast walking.

Brown today is walking against the crack baserunners of the Coast League. On his arrival here as a Pantages star he challenged any baserunner to a race, he walking around the bases once while the runners, at top speed, circle them twice. The contest was staged before this afternoon's game at the Oakland grounds. It was one of the most interesting features of the game.

Brown has a system of training all his own, and less rigorous than that of any other athlete. He does not drink or smoke, but eats practically what he likes. His exercises are simple and very scientific.

OAKS AGAIN BEATEN WHEN BILL PIERCY HURLS GREAT BALL

Bees Win Easy Game From the Oaks by Score of 5 to 0; Rath Stars.

Bill Piercy, who will make another endeavor to pitch major league ball as a member of the New York Yanks next season, probably thought that Manager Bill Donovan's own eyes were centered upon him at Recreation Park yesterday afternoon. Piercy shut out the Oaks with only four scanty hits and through his victory, Buddy Ryan's team climbed into the first division. The score was 5 to 0.

Morris Rath, Salt Lake infield star, set a mark for the game by grabbing five safe hits in as many times at bat. The Bees engineered four double plays which assisted in holding the number of Oak runs down to the zero mark. Bill Burns started for the Oaks and as per custom, he got a beating in the very first inning. Hits by Rath, Brief, Quinlan and Shinn and a fumble by Utschig, bush outfielder whom Howard tried out in left field, gave the Bees three tallies.

Lefty Kinney took the mound in the second and he was nicked for a single and a double, Piercy and Rath doing the damage. In the sixth, the Bees scored another, hits by Piercy, Rath and Brief accounting.

DOCK & DECK

With a full load of provisions, the steamer Elihu Thompson sailed for the Pribolof Islands, Alaska. When she returns her cargo will consist of 50,000 seal skins, which were taken by the employees of the North American Trading Company, who lease the St. Paul and St. George islands from the United States Government and who are limited to that number of skins each year. Living on the islands are government employees who are to see that only that number of fur seals are captured. About 300 natives do the killing. These skins are salted and placed in large casks, and when they reach this port they are recounted and shipped to London, England, for treatment, and then made into clothing. London is the only place where sealskins can be dyed and hold color. The value of the Thompson's cargo on her return voyage will amount to over $1,250,000. Captain Ames will command the Thompson.

RASSMUSSEN OFF FOR AUSTRALIA.

After an illness of three weeks at Eureka, Captain Rassmussen of Berkeley, master of the schooner Lottie Bennett, sailed for Australia today. The Bennett sailed from Oakland about six weeks ago to load her cargo of 750,000 feet of lumber, and Captain Rassmussen was given command, after being ashore for five years. Upon reaching Eureka he was taken sick and was sent to the hospital for treatment, the vessel being loaded and delayed some days waiting for the skipper to recover.

The steamer San Pedro is on her way home to Oakland from Mexican ports, and is due to larrive here tomorrow, when she will go to the drydock for cleaning and painting after being in the southern waters for the past three months. She stopped at San Pedro on her way here to land 18 passengers and several sacks of mail, which she received from the United States battleships in the Mexican waters.

HANLON YARDS GET TWO SHIPS.

The Hanlon shipyard of East Oakland has just received the contract to overhaul the government steamers Carthwright and one other steamer. They will arrive at the shipyard this week. The British bark Oweenee will also go to the ways before loading for Europe with a cargo of barley from California. She arrived in port on August 15 from Junin with 3700 tons of nitrate. Captain Collins is master of the craft.

With 670,000 feet of lumber, the barge Harvester, in tow of the steamer Wilmington, from Port Angeles, and the steamer North Folk from Eureka, with 425,000 feet, arrived today at the Sunset Lumber Company wharves. There also came into port the steamer Raymond from Willapa, with 700,000 feet; steamer Pasadena from Albion, with 375,000; steamer Westport from Union Landing, 252,000; steamer Adeline Smith from Coos Bay, with 1,750,000 feet.

Note—In the above tabulations of the tides the daily tides are given in the order of their occurrence, commencing with the early morning tide in the left-hand column and the succeeding tides as they occur. On some days but three tides occur, the fourth occurring the following morning.

The columns of heights give the elevation of each tide above or below the level of Coast Survey chart sounding. The numbers are always additive to the chart depths, unless preceded by a minus sign, or dash (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depths given on the chart.

White Fish 5c

We recommend the little known White Fish—called on the Atlantic Coast and in Europe by its proper name—HAKE. It is known locally as White Fish or Mellutsa.

It is a handsome deep sea fish—2 to 5 lbs. in weight—comparatively free from bones—of good flavor—easily cooked either boiled or fried.

Ask your dealer for a four-pound White Fish. It will be enough for a family of five and only costs twenty cents—5c a pound.

Cook it ten minutes in boiling water in which a tablespoonful of salt to each quart is dissolved.

Make a dressing of lemon juice or vinegar—oil—chopped parsley, salt and pepper; pour over the fish when serving.

To most people a little chopped garlic and some paprica adds to the dressing.

White Fish are good fried in drippings or oil after rubbing in flour or batter—boiling is less trouble and makes a more appetizing dish.

SOLE

Sole is now in season—hence the very reasonable price—large Sole 10c lb. small Sole, 3 lbs. 25c. equally good fried or boiled.

SANDABS 10c

One of the greatest delicacies found in the San Francisco markets—visitors say we San Franciscans don't know what a really fine fish a Sandab is—but we're beginning to appreciate it.

Usually fried and served with a few drops of lemon or lime juice.

The prices fixed by this Exchange are the maximum which should be paid by the consumer and are based on delivery and charge accounts.

We are glad to see that some dealers have been able to make even lower prices.

Our sole aim is to get the public to eat our local fish and to see that they get it at a fair price.

LEADERS HOLD TOP PLACE ON EXCHANGE

U. S. Steel in Slight Advance While Marines Experience Pressure

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The New York Evening Sun's financial review today said:

Realizing sales and efforts by professional traders who had cleaned up some fancy profits on the long side of speculation to drive market values to lower levels were effective in bringing about irregular price tendencies in today's session without establishing quotations in the general list materially under Wednesday's closing. Declining movements as a rule failed to hold for any length of time. They failed also to attract important selling, while on the other hand the many advances recorded brought in new buying, especially in United States Steel and Reading, which were leading features of the trading.

Reading's big advance naturally encouraged more interesti n the railroad group without adding much to the value of business, while the character of the buying in steel common induced greater activity in other steel shares, notably steel common, which was consistently strong in the greater part of the session. The copper shares were in moderate demand and in well informed quarters statements were made that accumulation of the various members of the group was still under way, particularly Inspiration and Anaconda, which for weeks had been tipped for a big move in the autumn. The position of the copper metal market is as extraordinary as that for steel. The large sellers of the metal are now negotiating contracts for next year's delivery and are quoting deliveries so far ahead as August at 27 cents per pound.

Copper stocks were strong features in the last hour, with Inspiration moving to a new high record.

Liquidation of weak bull accounts occurred in the first hour, when the selling of Marines, Kelly-Springfield and other specialties caused general recessions. The notable exception was Reading, which ran counter to the entire list on its steady rise to 109½, the highest quotation in months.

U. P., the coalers and the more prominent trunk lines were 1 to 2 points higher. A feverish undertone prevailed at noon. Bonds were steady, except for weakness in Rock Island debentures.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—American securities were cheerful under the leads of U. S. Steel. The closing was steady.

PROFESSIONAL COMMENT.

Liverpool—Wheat—selling wheat on the large visible will not be a profitable transaction.

The foreign buying is insistent and present rate of shipments will continue for a couple of months and the surplus available will be gone. We have not touched the top.

Corn—Rains have been extended over the section of good corn condition and an end put to the loss.

It is too late to increase crop prospects in the southern half of the big belt. The poor crops are drying up. Look for strong market.—Goodman.

Broomhall—Wheat opened steady with America but trading is dull. Export offers light. Spot unchanged with fair demand; cargo market steady; Manitobas unchanged and winters 3d dearer. Indian, Australian, Argentine firmly held, but few transactions owing to difficulty of transportation. Traders generally are waiting. Expectations are for larger world's shipments this week with increasing quantities from America. Corn quiet with some pressure of spot, owing to larger arrivals. Spot half to 1d lower. Parcels unchanged to 3d lower.

Clark Childs & Co.—In the rails much disgusted selling occurs, but it is realized that important interests holding stocks who attempt a better basis for distributing.

Mayden Stone & Co.—A great aid to bullish enthusiasm is the ease in money.

The Sun—The strongest and best known of the clients are committed to the bull side.

Wall Street Journal—The ending of the vacation season is bringing large operators and investors back into the market.

WHEAT BREAKS IN WAKE OF WAR NEWS

Prospect of Greece Joining the Allies Puts Pressure on Cereal.

CHICAGO, Sept. 7. — Reports that Greece had joined the Anglo-French allies put wheat under selling pressure today and caused weakening of prices. In this connection the bears gave emphasis to announcements that there was sufficient tonnage at present in the Black Sea to move 20,000,000 bushels and that the available surplus which could move if the Dardanelles were open would again add 400,000,000 bushels. Opening quotations here, which ranged from 1 to 1¾c lower with December at $1.52½ to $1.53 and May at $1.53¾ to $1.54, were followed by substantial further declines.

Corn weakened with wheat. After opening unchanged to ⅝c lower, the market underwent a moderately additional setback.

Oats sympathized with the depression in other cereals. Little or no power to rally was shown.

Selling by packers carried provisions down grade.

There seemed to be no demand whatever for pork.

Lack of confirmation for reports about Greece led afterward to something of a recovery. The close was nervous to 1¾c net lower with December at $1.53¾ and May at $1.55.

The close was unsettled at ⅝c decline to a like advance, as compared with yesterday's finish.

Close: Wheat, December $1.53¾; May $1.55. Corn, December 75½c, May 78⅝c. Oats, December 49⅜c, May 52⅜c. Pork, October $27. Lard, October $14.42, January $14. Ribs, October $14.27, January $13.10.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 7.—Wheat unchanged to 2c higher; no sales. Spot bids: Bluestem $1.34, forty fold $1.32, club $1.30, red fife $1.30, red Russian $1.28.

LOCAL PRODUCE

Firmness in the sales of peaches, which are daily becoming scarcer, and a stiffening in the price of grapes, were features of today's market. Good freestone peaches especially were scarce, bringing as high as $1.15 a box. Grapes are arriving in the market in better condition than earlier in the season, being riper and more sugary. In consequence the trade is buying more readily and while the arrivals show little diminution, quotations had an upward tendency today. Muscats sold to $1.30; black grapes from 60c to 90c and seedless to $1.35 a box. The supply of canteloupes still continues in excess of the demand with a consequent slackness in the sales. Standard canteloupes brought from 75c to 90c, ponies from 40c to 50c and flats from 30c to 40c. The berry market was firm today, strawberries and raspberries being disposed of at former quotations. This morning's arrival of blackberries came in late for market, but no change in quotations resulted. Tomatoes, while plentiful, are inclined to be firmer. Eggplant continues plentiful at from 30c to 35c. The poultry market was somewhat firmer today. Small broilers were scarcer and sold from 22c to 24c a pound, while large broilers also brought this figure. Fryers sold from 22c to 23c a pound.

PUBLIC INTEREST IN STOCKS REVIVE

New York Exchange Is Scene of Excitement As Steel Goes to Par.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Revival of public interest in the stock market on a scale unequaled since last year's sensational movement in war brides was indicated by today's operations, the first hour's business aggregating fully 400,000 shares, or at the rate of 2,000,000 shares for the full session.

New high records were made by some of the popular speculative favorites, United States Steel for the first time in its history touching par, which is actually equivalent to 102¼ adding its recent regular and extra dividends.

Mercantile marines, which proved the spectacular features of the last fortnight, also scored new maximums, the preferred in the first hour gaining four points at 124 and the common 3 at 50½, Inspiration Copper at 59, Kelly Springfield Tire at 84¼ and Atlantic Gulf and West Indies at 74¾ furnished the other new records.

Elsewhere in the list excepting the railway division which had shown marked restraint prior and since the passage of the eight-hour law, gains ranged from one to three points. Industrials, equipments, munitions, motors, metals and petroleums sharing variably in the rise. Profit taking served to reduce early advances but fresh buying helped to check any pronounced recessions.

Congressman Randall Opposed in Party

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 7.—Former Congressman Charles W. Bell of Pasadena, has been named as an independent Republican candidate to oppose Congressman Charles H. Randall of Los Angeles, for re-election in the Ninth California congressional district. The action was taken at a conference here of about 100 Republicans and Progressives. Randall won the nominations of the Republican, Progressive, Democratic and Prohibition parties at the primaries August 29. There was no Socialist candidate.

Bell served two terms in Congress, as a Progressive, and was defeated two years ago for re-election by Randall. It will be necessary to write in his name on the ballot.

PRICE TOO HIGH FOR WATER PLANT

Hayward Trustees Balk at Figure and May Ask Rail Board to Estimate the Sale Value of Company's Units

Municipal Ownership Has a Strong Advocacy in Community and New Installation Urged by Officials at Meeting

HAYWARD, Sept. 7.—This city may build its own water plant as an alternative to purchasing the plant of the Hayward Water Company if the sentiment of members of the town board and of the Chamber of Commerce expressed at a meeting of the former last night finds public favor. Suggestions that the municipality take action in building its own water system were made by representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, Mayor Arthur Manter and other public officials, following a statement from the Hayward Water Company placing a valuation of $127,000 on its plant. This valuation was considered too high by the trustees who asked for the valuation before determining whether they should purchase the plant.

The trustees and the Chamber of Commerce will probably ask the State Railroad Commission to place a valuation on the water company's plant. If the commission's valuation is considered too high for purposes of purchase plans for building a municipal water plant may be carried through, according to Mayor Manter.

Fire Chief M. G. Riggs suggested building a municipal plant and his proposal was supported by the Chamber of Commerce and several of the trustees.

A valuation of $101,000 was placed on the water company's plant by the Railroad Commission two years ago as a basis for fixing rates. The town attorney's valuation on the plant was $68,000. The plant consists of the pumping apparatus at Alvarado, a reservoir on Strobridge Hill and the mains in town.

SHERIFF'S POSSE TRAILING BANDITS

Abandoned Fruitless Attempt to Blow Safe; Leave Town on Engine.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Sept. 7.—Six masked bandits, who last night held up the Golden State Limited of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway near Apache, forty miles east of Douglas, early today were being trailed by a sheriff's posse, organized immediately after the holdup. The attempted robbery was a complete failure.

The bandits, after six attempts to blow open the safe of the express car, abandoned the job and disappeared on cow ponies. The passengers were not molested. One shot was fired at the mail clerk, as he closed the door and locked himself in the car.

Two of the robbers boarded the tender at Apache, covered the engine crew with revolvers, and after the first three cars were detached, were joined by four companions awaiting at a campfire nearby.

Appoint Committees for Hospital Bazaar

To discuss plans for the annual bazaar for the benefit of the Baby Hospital, nearly one hundred east bay society women and girls enrolled in the various branches, met at the hospital at the call of Mrs. S. M. Marks. The meeting was followed by a luncheon.

Chairmen of the different committees were appointed as follows: Booths, Mrs. Charles R. Lloyd of Berkeley; decoration, Mrs. Arthur Dale King; refreshments, Mrs. W. W. Briggs; amusements, Mrs. William Knowles; music, Mrs. Frank K. Mott. Mrs. Charles E. Wingate is in charge of the details of the brilliant ball that will close the three days of the fair, October 19 to 21, and the sale of boxes and tickets has been entrusted to Mrs. Clifton Macon, 487 Twenty-ninth street.

This will be the third of the Baby Hospital annual bazaars. It is anticipated that this will be successful as a social event, and even more profitable financially than its predecessors.

ASK ONE DIVORCE IN THREE WEDDINGS

Ohio Couples Tire Quickly of Married Life, According to Statistics.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 7.—For every three marriages in Ohio last year, at least one divorce suit was started.

For every six marriages, one divorce was granted by Ohio courts and one marriage annulled.

These figures will be cited in the forthcoming report of Secretary of State Chas. Q. Hildebrant, soon to be filed with Governor Willis, it was learned here today.

Ten years ago Ohio had only one divorce to every twelve marriages. Annual reports of the former secretaries show plainly the divorce evil is gaining ground in Ohio married life.

Hildebrant's report shows it is the wife and not the husband, as generally it is supposed, who tires soonest of the marriage bond.

For example: Exactly 299 divorces were granted husbands last year on the ground that their wives had been unfaithful. Only 196 wives were granted divorces from husbands charged with forgetting their marriage vows.

However, it is the husband who shirks married responsibility first, according to the report. Exactly 3014 divorces were granted wives last year for "absence and neglect," as against 1354 granted husbands for the same reason.

Hildebrant's report shows that June still holds good as the month of marriages and that January is the month that Cupid languishes.

On the 48,260 marriages reported for the year, 5820 were solemnized in June, while January's record was only 2875.

Husband No. 2 Says Hubby No. 1 Nagged

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—Declaring that Earl Rogers, Los Angeles attorney, and former husband of his wife, has continually bothered him, and that Rogers' children have been taught to show him disrespect, Thomas Lester Blackwell, nephew of the governor of Missouri, says he is through with romance. Either Mrs. Blackwell or he will get a divorce, he says. If she does not file suit, he announced today, he will. Blackwell received a letter from his wife yesterday, according to his statements, declaring that she will file suit. This will end a brief but sensational matrimonial adventure.

Blackwell, son of a noted Kansas City physician, married Mrs. Rogers shortly after her divorce. Rogers also married again. Rogers denies Blackwell's statements with the reminder that the marriage of Blackwell and the former Mrs. Rogers relieved him of a $200 a month alimony payment.
